

Creepy Crawlers Finally Force Foes To Seek Spray

By Sue Aucella Deacon

As the gypsy moth caterpillars finally crawl into their cocoons, most people agree they don't want to face another spring with the hairy insects that have devoured leaves and generally made life miserable. The answer, at least according to one group of residents, is for Andover to spray the entire town with the insecticide Bt next year.

A group of Tilton Lane neighbors plan to petition for a special town meeting in the fall, so that voters can appropriate funds to spray the town with the same insecticide that has been used on some roadside trees for the past two years.

"The conditions on Tilton Lane were deplorable," neighborhood spokeswoman Doreen Correnti told the selectmen Monday night. "We had to spray the door before we could open it, and I had to leave the house for three days. I can't see how this is a sanitary way to live."

Correnti said the neighbors believe Bt is "a natural insecticide that is not harmful to anyone." Sevin, another insecticide permitted in this state, is more effective, but is also harmful to birds and other wildlife.

Public Works Director Robert McQuade said it would cost approximately $150,000 to spray the whole town once — and that the town would have to be sprayed twice, for a total of "$300,000-plus."

Selectmen Chairman Norma Gammon told the neighbors they should get busy gathering the needed 300 signatures on a petition if they want to call a special town meeting. But she added that she hoped they would not call for the meeting before a new town manager is hired, after October.

And Selectman Donn Byrne suggested that since Board of Health and state approval is necessary before the town can spray, the residents should use the summer to work out a program with the local board and be sure it meets state approval.

Director of Public Health Everett Pennery, Jr., offered the Board of Health's assistance, and advised the neighbors that approaching the board "might be your best first step."

But McQuade cautioned the neighbors not to be too optimistic, even if town meeting does vote in favor of spraying. "Spraying is not a cure-all," he warned. "With aerial spraying you do not by any stretch of the imagination eliminate gypsy moths. It's a degree — you never eliminate them — all you can do is reduce the extent."

And he added that "under no conditions"

Twister Cleanup

The start of summer vacation for these youngsters got off to an unexpected busy start this week, when a twister set down on the Finn property at 104 Argilla Road, uprooting trees and shrubs. Here, Scott Adams, Scott Tobias and Jonathan Finn undertake a little cleanup work on one of the six trees uprooted by the winds.

Twister Damages Finn Property

For the Finn family at 104 Argilla Road it was ten seconds of sheer shock.

Their tree-studded property, the prime appeal of their dream home, had been uprooted in that period of time by what appeared to be a twister which bounced off their grounds and no one else's in the neighborhood.

It happened Monday night a few minutes after Joseph A. Finn, who is chairman of the Andover school committee, came home. Dark clouds and some rain had accompanied his trip home from work, but just after getting inside he heard this mighty whooshing sound and looked out the window to see three large weeping willow trees being sucked out of the ground by the wind.

One tree fell on the house, others were literally uprooted. The twister yanked up a wooden fence and pulled it through shrubbery. In all, six trees were cut down by the wind's velocity.

Finn said the experience was "shocking and frightening," noting the rapidity with which it hit and departed.

"It was over in a matter of seconds, ten at the most, and hit only one section of the yard, leaving other trees and shrubs intact. Leaves on the trees were turned inside out, he said.

"It was almost as if it bounced off one section of the yard and was whisked off by air currents because no other area in the vicinity was damaged," Finn said.

Damage to the property was extensive. There is some damage to the roof, but not severe as far as could be determined on Tuesday. But the downed trees will have to be removed and cut up, heavy equipment brought onto the property to remove the stumps and other debris left in the storm's wake. The electrical power to the house, cut by the falling trees, was restored Tuesday morning.

Assessing the damage Tuesday, Finn, while discouraged at the loss of the landscaping he and his wife had so much admired about the property when they purchased it, was thankful that there were no personal injuries as a result of the twister touching down.

"It's tough to lose the trees and go through the damage which will result from the cleanup effort, but realistically, we have to be thankful no one was hurt," Finn concluded.

The sudden storm caused power outages and downed limbs and trees in some sections of town, causing public works crews to be called back during the early evening hours for cleanup operations. Large limbs were felled on Elm Street and High Street causing both areas to be without power for some time during Monday evening.

Movies Series Begins Monday

The first feature length movie will be held on Monday, June 29, at Central Park, starting off the season of film entertainment will be Walt Disney's comedy, "Pete's Dragon," with a well-known cast of comedians including Helen Reddy, Shelly Winters, Mickey Rooney, Red Buttons and the voice of Charlie Callas. "Pete's Dragon" combines the dazzling animation of a new breed of Disney artists with the song and dance talents of live actors. In this exciting, imaginative adventure, Elliott, an enormous, bumbling dragon with a penchant for clumsy heroics, befriends poor orphan Pete. "Pete's Dragon" advances the marriage of live action and animation well beyond "Mary Poppins."

The Department of Community Services will offer feature length movies and cartoon shorts on Monday evenings through Aug. 17. The shows will start at dusk and run approximately two hours. There is no admission charge. In case of rain, movies will be held on Tuesday.

The family concert and movie programs in Central Park are made possible by the generous contributions from the Andover Savings Bank, Andover Chamber of Commerce, Hewlett Packard, First Essex Savings Bank, Software International, The Gillette Company and Andover Clean Craft.

Summer Series Continues

The fifth organ recital of the summer series at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall will be presented by Michelle Graveline Stout on Wednesday, July 1, at 8:30 p.m.

Michelle Stout received the Bachelor of Music and Master of Sacred Music degrees from Boston University where she studied with George Faxon, Jack Fisher and Max Miller. Mrs. Stout holds the Associate certificate of the American Guild of Organists, and was the 1980 winner of the Gruenstein Memorial Competition sponsored by the Chicago Club of Women Organists. Currently she is a doctoral candidate in organ at the University of Michigan and studies with Marilyn Mason.

Her recital program consists of: Prelude and Fugue in G Major - Nicolaus Bruhns; Two Choral Preludes on "Herr Jesu Christ, dich zu uns wend," BMV 709 and BMV 655 - Johann Sebastian Bach; Sonata in F Minor, Op. 65, No. 1 - Allegro moderato e serioso - Adagio-Andante recit.-Allegro assai vivace - Felix Mendelssohn; Les Corps Glorieux - Combat de la Mort et de la Vie - Joie et Clarte des Corps Glorieux - Olivier Messaien; Fantasia uber Straf mich nicht in deinem Zorn, Op.

40, No. 2 - Max Reger.

The Music Hall, originally known as Serlo Hall, was designed by the noted architect, Henry Vaughan, who also began the Washington Cathedral and designed Groton Chapel. Completed in 1909, the Hall is about 65 feet in height, to the center of the vault; 40 feet wide in the nave (70 feet at the transepts), and slightly over 100 feet in length. The somewhat over 300,000 cubic feet volume provides an empty reverberation period of about four seconds.

John Ogasapian, organist, will perform at the Music Hall on July 8.

The first state to enter the Union after the original 13 was Vermont in 1791.

Town House Topics

Torrissi Acting Manager

Director of Finance and Budget Tony Torrissi has been named acting town manager, effective at 4:30 p.m. June 30, Town Manager's Jared S.A. Clark's last day on the job.

Torrissi's appointment was approved by the selectmen Monday night. He will fill the post through the summer; the selectmen hope to hire a new manager by the end of September.

Clark, who is going on to a position as marketing representative with IBM, has volunteered one last evening to the town: on July 1. Even though he will no longer be the manager, Clark will meet with representatives of youth athletic leagues and town officials to discuss the use of town playing fields while the fields undergo renovations as part of the school building project.

The manager explained that while Torrissi will attend that meeting, he does not have enough background to fully brief the youth leagues on the project schedule.

Selectmen Approve Block Parties

Central Park may be quiet on the Fourth of July this year, but the Friends of Shawsheen will be enjoying a holiday celebration just the same. The selectmen Monday night granted the neighborhood group a one-day beer license for use at the Sacred Heart playing field in Shawsheen on July 4.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark pointed out that in the past, such licenses have been granted only for Recreation Park, cautioning that the Shawsheen license might be seen as something of a precedent, but Selectman Donn Byrne said the board would "take it a case at a time"—whether the pun was intended remained unclear—and the board agreed to okay the one-day license.

Other festivities approved by the board Monday night: a block party on Lincoln Circle East, 2 to 6 p.m. on Saturday, July 4; and a block party on High Plain Road, from Greenwood Road to Gleason Street, 6 to 11:30 p.m. on Thursday, July 2, with a rain date of Friday, July 3.

Alternative Program Shut Down

The town's alternative sentencing program, in cooperation with Lawrence District Court, has been put on hold for an indefinite time, but probably at least three months.

The program puts young offenders to work for the town rather than in jail, but the town manager recently discovered that the youth could be eligible for workmen's compensation—and that would add up to a $93,000 insurance policy for the town.

The selectmen Monday night agreed to send a letter to Representative Gerry Cohen urging state legislation to remove the program from workmen's compensation, but that could take three months, Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark explained.

Clark said a few youths were still working in the program, those who seemed unlikely to end up filing claims, but Selectman Donn Byrne instructed the manager to "shut it down" immediately. Byrne said it was too great a risk to continue the program at all until the legislation is passed.

Firefighters Contract Completed

The town manager has successfully completed negotiations with the firefighters. Manager Jared S.A. Clark told the selectmen Monday night, and he plans to draw up the new contract this week.

Negotiations are still going on, however, with Public Works employees, the police sergeants, and the fire deputies. Clark said he hoped to wrap up those discussions this week.

The board voted to transfer $70,000 from the compensation fund to the police budget to implement the police contract Clark recently negotiated with the patrolmen.

The manager also presented the board with copies of his newly revised personnel rules and regulations for independent employees. Clark worked on revising the regulations for the past year, with the help of a committee representing the independent workers. The rules had not been revised since 1965, and Clark recommended that the next manager try to keep the manual up-to-date.

Office To Close

The Greater Lawrence Mental Health Center will be closing its offices at 581 Andover St. effective July 6. The center's Emergency and Administrative Services will move to the downtown Lawrence location at 351 Essex St. (The Gleason Building).

All correspondence after July 6 should be addressed to: 351 Essex St., Lawrence, MA 01840.

Dorchester Site

At the Dorchester Heights National Historic Site, Thomas Park at Telegraph Street, visitors can see the colonial revival memorial tower commemorating the British evacuation of Boston in 1776. Guided walks free on request. Daily 9 to 4. Exit 17 off Route 93, to Day Boulevard.

Patriotic Program

"America in Song", a one-hour musical program featuring noted baritone Ernest Triplett, will be presented free to the public on Saturday, July 4, at 2 p.m. in Faneuil Hall. Also appearing will be the Liberty Chorale with Raymond Smith conducting and Joan Reddy at the piano.

Continuing a 10-year Fourth of July tradition, Triplett will also be performing "God Bless America" from the Old State House Balcony at 10:30 a.m.

Triplett has appeared with the Boston Symphony, the Boston Pops, the Rhode Island Philharmonic, the Lake George Opera as well as numerous other groups, and has performed the "Star-Spangled Banner" to open the Red Sox season at Fenway Park.

DCS Seeks Contributions

As in previous years, the DCS will offer summer concerts and movies in Central Park. This year, however, the department must collect donations to make these series entirely self supporting. (Over two-thirds of the amount needed has been raised through contributions by local business and organizations). The department would greatly appreciate donations of any size by the community to supplement the amount collected and help ensure that the series run as planned.

Please make checks payable to the Town of Andover or bring cash to the department at the Doherty School, 36 Bartlett St.

The department thanks the following groups for donations received so far: The Andover Chamber of Commerce, The Andover Savings Bank, Hewlett Packard, First Essex Bank, Gillette, Software International, Andover Clean Craft and Musicians Union Local 372.

Recycling Format To Change

By now most Andover residents have received the July 1981 - June 1982 recycling calendar and information sheet mailed last week to all households. Reading these materials thoroughly will be essential this year because of changes in the pickup system starting July 6.

From that week on, all recyclables will be collected every other week on the regular rubbish pickup day. Newspapers and magazines, tied or in grocery bags; corrugated cardboard collapsed and tied; and clear, green and brown glass, separated by color and placed in reusable containers or large grocery bags will all be collected at the same time.

It is not necessary to remove labels, rings, or plastic jackets from bottles, but recyclers must take care not to include any ceramic, china or plastic containers with their recyclable glass. These substances cannot be sold to a glass processor and may even prevent a whole load from being accepted.

Anyone who has not received the recent recycling mailing may pick up the calendar and information sheet at the town clerk's office or the tax collector's office in Andover Town Hall.

Recycling Stickers

Margaret Pustell of Andover Recycling, Inc. displays the eye-catching Andover Recycles decal available for 25¢ in the town clerk's office, the tax collector's office and the Veterans' Service office in Andover Town Hall. Easily applied, it may be used as a bumper sticker or a marker on reusable recycling containers.

A Two Penny Clown

Family Performance Scheduled

The Andover Department of Community Services and Vermont's Two Penny Theatre announces an all-new circus show: New England Clown Chowder to be held on Wednesday, July 8, at Recreation Park at 10 a.m.

Clown Chowder is a hot stew of deliciously exciting circus acts: clowns making music, clowns performing feats of magic and acrobatics, clowns juggling balls, pins, and hats, clowns walking on a slack rope, clowns getting into and out of trouble, clowns poking fun at the absurd, clowns, finally, amusing and relating to audiences with color, life and energy.

Clowns were the heart of the old circuses. That was when circuses were folk events, travelling from village to village, town to town, setting up, sending forth a wave of excitement and then moving on. That was before the place of clowns on centerstage was displaced by huge spectacles, complicated machinery, and arenas too large for their sight gags to be seen and their dialogue to be heard.

With the Two Penny Theatre, the clowns step forward once again to reclaim their place under the spotlight. They believe that sleeping within us is a personal clown waiting to be re-awakened.

The clowns of Two Penny Theatre, and during the eight years there have been many of them—Pepperoni, Fat Man, Mr. Clack, Tuts, Ms. Tweet—whatever their names and personalities—these clowns expose and reveal innocence, charm, vulnerability, humor, embarrassment, and capacity for the outrageous that is a part of us all.

Enjoy a summer morning in Andover's Recreation Park off Abbot Street with the whole family. A small admission fee will be charged per person. Children should be at least five years old.

Partial funding for this performance was provided by the New England Foundation for the Arts and Humanities and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Program Registration Continues

The Department of Community Services registration is continuing at the 36 Bartlet St. office for the summer programs that remain open. All programs begin the week of Monday, June 29, unless otherwise specified. The following courses are only a few of the selection which remain open: Creative Arts (Gr 3-6); Creative Visual Arts (Jr/Sr High); Fun with Movement (K-3); Introduction to Dance (Gr 4-6); Creative Movement (Jr/Sr High); Ballroom Dancing I, II and III; Girls Basketball Clinic (ages 10-17); Boys Basketball Clinic (ages 11-16); Soccer Clinic (Gr3-8); Gymnastics (Beginning and Intermediate); Yoga (Beginners I and II).

The following courses will meet Aug. 3 through Aug. 7 and are part of a week-long series of creative workshops entitled Kaleidoscope: Backyard Adventures (K-1); Story Theater (Gr 3-4); Nature's Class Room (Gr 4-6); Creative Writing Happening (Gr 5-6); Spin Some Yarns (Gr 5-6); and Summersong (Gr 5-6).

Anyone interested in registering for these classes should go the the DCS office Monday - Friday, 8:30-4:30 p.m.

Andover Guide Reprinted

A new printing of the Andover town handbook, prepared and distributed by the Andover League of Women Voters is available for purchase in three downtown locations: Memorial Hall Library, Kenneth P. Thompson, Inc., and the Andover Bookstore.

This familiar "green book" was first published in 1974 when Nancy Mulvey served as local League president. She has contributed her time and talent to the 1978 update and the present edition. Although the face may look the same, extensive changes have been made. The book attempts to keep up with the dynamic community it portrays. A fold-out of the latest town map includes a listing of current streets. The "Where to Find" middle section has included new agencies, services and locations. Among other changes to note are: single polling place, elimination of special fall town meeting, school closings, street listing by mail, new industries to town and new town offices.

The book will sell for $2.38 plus tax. The 50 cent increase over the 1974 price does not reflect publishing cost increases during that period. The 66-page book is designed as a service to Andover and is possible only with volunteer labor, cooperation from local officials, donations from the Andover business and professional community during the annual October finance drive, and from the Malden Cooperative Bank for their special contribution.

Historical Group In Bazaar

The Andover Historical Society at 97 Main St., neighbor to an important shopping and professional center, is also participating in Andover's Sidewalk Bazaar.

While Andover merchants will display contemporary products, the Historical society will show in its Barn Museum the products used by local residents a century and more ago. On the Society's lawn there will be exhibits and sales of handcrafts.

The Society will sponsor activities on both Friday and Saturday, June 26 and 27. On Friday, its booth will be open in front of town hall from 2-6 p.m. to demonstrate such traditional crafts as woodcarving and caning. The booth will continue its demonstrations and sales Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

At the Society on Saturday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. the Barn Museum will be open free to the public. A special activity program for families is planned from 10 a.m. to noon. Based upon the museum's new fifth grade local history program, the activities include printing, writing with quill pens, coring apples and role-playing as farmers and firemen.

Following this special program, the Barn Museum will continue to be open with guides available to answer any questions.

Outside the Barn Museum, sales tables will offer historical publications, sampler kits, old-fashioned ginger cookies and cold lemonade. Demonstrations and sales of quilting, wooden crafts and other handwork will also be available.

At 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. the Andover Militia will drill. Music and colorful uniforms will complement the informative explanations offered by the militia members.

The Andover Historical Society is a non-profit educational institution open to both members and public. For further information on exhibits, tours, special events and membership, contact the office, open 9-5, Monday-Friday.

Mural On Display At Bank

Andover residents may view a unique work of art at the Andover Savings Bank from June 15 until June 29. Children in the art group of the Gifted and Talented Program have completed a ceramic mural containing over 90 buildings of the town of Andover. The mural was created by art students from all of the elementary schools; the program leader was James Batchelder, art specialist at Sanborn School.

Ultimately the mural will hang in the administrative offices at Shawsheen School.

The Andover Savings Bank has agreed to display it for two weeks.

The cash register was devised in 1897 through a saloon-keeper's observations of an ocean liner propeller

Gain Honors

Two Andover resident were among 120 students recently honored for academic excellence at the University of Lowell annual honors convocation.

Michael McLaughlin of 407 South Main St., a major in law and justice, received the outstanding scholar award for excellence in law and justice.

And Linda Riehl of 61 Salem St., a math major, received an award for outstanding achievement in mathematics.

The awards were presented by outgoing university president Dr. John B. Duff, new chancellor of higher education for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and incoming university president Dr. William T. Hogan.

Cormier Gravel Pit Renewed

Developer Yvon Cormier's permit to remove gravel from one section of his Andover Country Club development has been renewed for another year, with no objection from abutters.

Selectmen approved the license renewal Monday night with a four to one vote, with Chairman Norma Gammon opposed.

The half-dozen people present in Memorial Hall Library listened quietly to the discussion and only one neighbor offered any comment, in contrast to last year's series of vocal and heated meetings. Most abutters were opposed to the permit when it was first approved last June.

The permit allows the developer to remove approximately 477,000 cubic yards of gravel from section one of the development, located off Canterbury Street. The 360-acre parcel is bounded by Canterbury, Lowell and Beacon streets and Chandler Circle, and will be built in seven sections.

The permit includes a list of more than 30 conditions, and the site must meet the building inspector's approval.

Sam DeSalvo, building inspector and acting Community Development and Planning director, reported to the selectmen that "since the permit was issued, there have been very few complaints (from neighbors), and everything has been complied with."

He said part of one subdivision road, "Haskell Road," has been hot-topped and the area along the roadway has been loomed. The developer has also installed drainage pipes and 3,000 feet of sewer line.

A water truck is on-site daily to keep dust watered down, and a hillside at the site has been covered with hay and netting to prevent the sand from blowing onto neighbors' property. DeSalvo indicated, Blowing sand was one of the abutters' major complaints last year.

Arthur Fosse of Dana F. Perkins Associates, engineers for the developer, said he did not know when the first home would be built, but DeSalvo said construction is probably several months away. "Right now the site is basically a pit," he explained.

Cormier plans to build more than 270 houses on the site on three-quarter acre lots.

Abutter Robert Bradway of 18 Chandler Circle pointed out that the restrictions in the permit call for a topographical survey of the site, at the developer's expense, to show that the site is properly graded. Bradway asked if such a survey had been done.

DeSalvo replied that no survey has been done, because Town Engineer John Avery is "satisfied with the grading. It is not perfect, but as far as I'm concerned, I am pleased with what has been done to this point."

And Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark explained that the permit conditions call for a survey at the completion of the entire subdivision, or at any other time that town officials feel there may be "a problem" at the site.

DeSalvo said he did not feel a survey was necessary to date.

Bradway added that he was "not opposed to the permit" and had "no great concern about how the project is going. I believe Mr. Cormier is trying very hard to be a good citizen."

Gammon did not offer any explanation for her sole vote against the permit renewal. She was also the only selectman to vote against the permit last June, saying at that time, "I don't think it's in the best interests of the town. There are more of these (applications for gravel removal permits) coming down the line, and I don't like the idea of setting a precedent here."

Under the town's current gravel removal bylaw, approved by 1980 town meeting, developers need a Zoning Board of Appeals variance to remove more than 2,000 cubic yards of earth material from one residential lot. Cormier applied for a special permit from the selectmen under the former bylaw, because he submitted preliminary plans for the country club development before the new bylaw was passed.

Private Pool Swim Program

The Andover-North Andover YMCA is once again offering its backyard swim program to residents of the Greater Lawrence communities.

This is the 14th year of this unique instructional program. Pool owners in residential neighborhoods have donated pool time to the local association. Certified instructors teach all levels of both the American Red Cross and YMCA aquatic programs.

Classes are offered for Moms and tots, ages two and three years, pre-schoolers ages four and five years, and grade school children from six to 12 years.

Greater Lawrence residents may register at the YMCA, 165 Haverhill St., Ando-

South School To Have Playground

The Department of Community Services will have a regular playground program at South School. This will begin June 29 and run for eight weeks just as all other previously scheduled playgrounds. While it was not the department's original intention to run the playground at South this year, reconsideration has been given and a full set of daily activities will be offered by qualified staff persons. Parents may register their children at the office or at the playground.

Pole Hill Deadline Extended

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 25, 1981

The deadline for Planning Board approval of definitive plans for a 69-house development on Pole Hill has been extended to July 22, because town officials have recommended a major change in the preliminary plans approved more than a year ago.

Plans call for building the subdivision, located off Center and Marland Streets in Ballardvale, around four cul-de-sacs, with one access road to Tewksbury Street. But Tuesday night, Acting Community Development Director Sam DeSalvo recommended that there be another access to the subdivision.

"Public Works, the police department, the fire department, and the (Community Development and Planning) staff feel it would be better to have two entrances for life safety," DeSalvo explained. "Where they are is totally up to the developer."

Andover Atty. Reginald Marden, representing developer Arthur Kalogianis of T.D.J. Development Corp., said he was "surprised" to be presented with that recommendation, after the preliminary plan had stood for a year.

"Everyone has relied on the preliminary plan for one year," Marden told the planners, calling it "unfair" and "unfortunate" that the board was recommending a change.

He emphasized that the planners last year indicated they preferred one access way because they did not want to add traffic to Center and Marland Streets, two narrow and busy roadways.

"I have a quarrel with the fact that every time there is a change in the composition of members of the planning board, the developer has to go back to the drawing board," the attorney added.

Since the preliminary plans were approved last April, four members of the five-member board have changed; Andrew Girdwood is the only planner who sat on the board at that time. He was not present Tuesday night.

Engineer Paul Ferrante of Dana F. Perkins Associates, representing the developer, said Kalogianis might have to take down more of Pole Hill to build another roadway, but abutters and officials have indicated they want to save as much of the hill as possible.

Chairman David Gravalles suggested the developer meet with town officials to try to come to an agreement, and possibly work out a plan to add another roadway without leveling the hilltop.

"I appreciate your comments," he told Marden. "It is unfair to add new requirements, and it adds cost for the developer. But the position we're in," he added, "is that our staff has raised these issues before us, and it would be unfair to everyone

If there's anything better than a FREE T-shirt,
it's winning FREE money.

Andover Bank is giving you a chance at both.

How to get your free T-shirt.

Just deposit $100 or more into a new or existing Regular Savings Account or 90-Day Notice Account or open a new NOW Account with $100 at any office of Andover Bank. We'll see that you get one of our golden T-shirts . . . FREE.

Or ask us for a free iron-on transfer. Put it on a shirt you already own; that counts, too. Either way, do it soon, because quantities of both the T-shirts and the transfers are limited.

Win some money, too.

Our spotters are out looking for you. If they see you wearing your Andover Bank T-shirt around town, they'll give you a crisp, new $10 bill. On the spot.

We'll be giving away cash at the rate of $10 a day from now until the end of July. We're looking in the parks . . . in the malls . . . and all around town.

Remember, everyday you're not wearing your T-shirt is a day you're missing out on a chance to win $10.

Lt. Paul G. Lapointe and Maj. Gen. David B. Easson

Commissioned In Air Force

Paul G. Lapointe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Lapointe, 18 Topping Road, Andover, was among 14 young men and women commissioned Second Lieutenants in the U.S. Air Force during ceremonies for Air Force ROTC Detachment 345 at the University of Lowell on May 23.

Maj. Gen. David B. Easson, Commandant of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps at Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., flew to Lowell for the ceremonies to honor the newly commissioned officers and to thank the university community for its support of the Air Force ROTC program.

Second Lieutenant Lapointe received a Bachelor of Science degree in Meteorology. He also recently received the Reserve Officers Association gold medal during ROTC awards ceremonies held earlier this month.

Lt. Lapointe's career in the Air Force is expected to begin with an assignment as a weather officer at Loring AF in Maine.

During the ceremonies, Lt. Lapointe received his commission from Maj. Gen. Easson, who also served as speaker, and Lt. Col. Elliott, who assumed command of AFROTC Detachment 345 in 1979. Over 150 cadets will participate in the AFROTC program at the University of Lowell in September 1981.

Now You're Cooking

This year I planted a small garden. Nothing sensational you understand, but Vera Konjoian convinced me how special it is for the kids to watch things grow and I was made to remember the joy in Gina Jo's eyes the first time she picked a ripe tomato. So down in the dirt I got. This will be my fourth garden, but with three years' experience behind me it's the first one I'll have for just the four of us. In the past I've always had enough zucchini to open a farm stand. I was forced to learn how to can tomatoes because nobody wanted any more of mine and we couldn't stand to throw them away. When I finished putting up 38 quarts of tomatoes I began researching what to do with green tomatoes. We had about a hundred. I found a great recipe for green relish and spent days putting up 24 pints of the stuff only to find out that my family hates relish! It made nice Christmas presents though. Anyway, getting back to this year's sensibly sized garden, I planted mainly that which makes a fresh salad terrific along with a few zucchini and eggplant. Here is a terrific recipe from Bonnie Briddell Griffith.

Zucchini Pie

- 4 cups thinly sliced zucchini
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 cup margarine
- 1/2 cup chopped parsley
- 1/2 tsp salt-pepper
- 1/4 tsp garlic powder
- 1/4 tsp basil
- 1/4 tsp oregano
- 2 eggs well beaten
- 8 oz shredded mozzarella
- 1 8 oz can refrigerator crescent rolls
- 2 tsp Dijon mustard

Pre-heat oven to 375. Sauté zucchini and onion in large frying pan 10 minutes. Stir in parsley and other seasonings. In a large bowl blend eggs and cheese well. Stir in vegetable mixture. Separate dough and place triangles into and up the sides of a 10 inch (ungreased) pie plate to form crust. Spread bottom with Dijon mustard. Pour vegetable mixture into crust evenly and bake 20 minutes or until a knife inserted in the middle comes out clean. Truly delicious.

Thank You, Bonnie!

The picnic for Jean Spader went so smoothly it was hard to believe there were 39 children there. So many of you requested the recipe for the Mexican Dip that I promised to include it in this month's column.

Super Nachos

- 1 1/2 lb ground beef
- 2 pkgs taco seasoning
- 1 onion chopped fine
- 1 garlic clove mashed
- 1 can Old El Paso tomatoes & green chilies
- 3 cups grated jack cheese
- 1 lb sour cream
- 1 cup chopped scallions

- 1 cup chopped black olives
- 1 can refried beans
- chips for dipping

Sauté hamburger, drain grease. Add taco seasoning, onion, garlic and tomatoes. Simmer 20 minutes. Spread refried beans on bottom of a 9"x13" baking dish. Spread hamburger mixture on top of beans. Cover all with cheese and bake at 400 just till cheese bubbles. Remove from oven. Cover top with sour cream. Garnish with scallions and olives. Everyone dips in with big chips; if you cannot find the big plain tortilla chips, they are very easy to make. You only need a little time. Buy the Cain tortillas usually available in the dairy section at DeMoulas. Cut them into your desired size and fry them about one minute on each side. Drain on paper towel, salt lightly and store in baggies until ready to use. By the way, if you prefer a hotter and spicier dip you need only add a few shakes of ground red pepper to your hamburger filling as it is cooking.

Kiddies' Corner

Here is a special idea for those of you with infants just going on to solids. With all the fresh vegetables available to you now you need not buy baby food. Buy the desired fresh vegetable. We'll use 1 lb. of carrots for an example. Peel and cut them. Drop them into boiling water for 5 minutes. Drain and puree them in your blender. Now pour the pureed carrots into plastic ice cube trays. When frozen, store the cubes in baggies and make up a batch of fruit cubes or chicken or whatever foods you'd like to have on hand for your child this summer. But remember, do not use metal or aluminum ice cube trays as this will spoil the nutrition value of the food. You can use this same method for older babies on junior foods by using the chop cycle on your blender and spooning the desired portions onto a plate. Freeze and store. Fresh vegetables and fruit are a big plus for your children so get as much into them as you can while you're still in command, because once they get to the outside world the only thing green they will eat is a jelly bean! Believe me — I've been there.

To really give your children a thrill plant some pumpkin seeds now. They will love making their own jack-o-lanterns in October and it will give them a great sense of pride as well. It's so very easy. Just follow the package instructions.

The Professional Touch

This month's Professional Touch is proudly presented by chef Larry Lawson of Andover's own Backstreet Restaurant. One of my favorite recipes that includes such a tender meat as veal does not require the heat of an oven, so your kitchen is kept as cool as possible for summertime cooking.

Veal Scalloped Tuscan
Escallops of veal pan sautéed with burgundy wine, prosciutto ham, sliced mushrooms, fresh shallots, topped with a delicate brown sauce, served over tortillinis. Serves 4.

- 1 1/2 lbs chunks of veal, tenderized
- 1 pint sliced mushrooms
- 4 slices Prosciutto ham, sliced, diced
- 1 clove fresh shallots, chopped fine
- 2 oz Burgundy wine
- 4 oz clarified butter
- 1 quart tortillinis
- 3 quarts chicken stock
- 4 oz garlic butter
- 6 oz brown cream sauce:
 - 6 oz cream, light
 - 1 beef bouillon cube
 - pinch of salt & white pepper
 - roux to thicken (50% flour, 50% butter)

Prepare tortillinis, boil in chicken stock until soft, cool under cold water, hold until serving time. Prepare brown sauce; heat cream, bouillon cube, salt and white pepper. When hot add roux to thicken. Hold sauce until serving time. Dredge veal in flour then into hot clarified butter over moderate heat, add sliced mushrooms, sauté, drain, add burgundy, Prosciutto ham, shallots, and brown sauce, mix. Serve over tortillinis after being sautéed in garlic butter.

I suggest serving this dish after a cool refreshing cup of midori soup.

Points Of Interest

I'd like to share with you a great gardening tip I received from Fred and Irene Doyle a few years ago. For those of you who don't know, the Doyles are natives of Andover for over 80 years and now live on Bailey Road in West Andover. If you have ever passed their house you have marvelled at the lush green lawn, praised the beautiful flower gardens and wondered what was growing in that fabulous looking garden. Well friends, I've had the honor of a tour through that garden and I've never seen anything like it. Mr. Doyle does all of it himself and Mrs. Doyle does all the flower work. The lawn, you ask? A joint effort! A gardening tip I received from the Doyles for which I'll always be grateful is plant plenty of onions. If you want green onions for fresh summer salads you need only plant them halfway below the surface of the soil, and for big yellow onions to last through the winter plant them about one inch into the soil. Harvest them in the fall before the first frost, store them in a cool place such as your basement and you're set for the winter. So plant yourself some onion sets and meet me here in October when I'll give you the best recipe for onion soup you have ever tasted. By the way, Mr. & Mrs. Doyle assured me it is not too late to plant your onion sets, however you might have a hard time finding them. Remember to try the big nurseries as well as the small.

Last month I told you about a product called Carbona Heavy Duty Tile Cleaner and how effective it is for the removal of bathroom mold. Since then I've discovered they have a whole line of products from rug shampoo to spot remover. Folks, I don't know anyone from this company or another thing about them except their products work. Real time savers — all of them.

This month's sewing tip from Sandee Kirkiles at Berkes is. Make your own sundresses with one seam. The fabric is purchased by the inch according to bust size. You need only sew the fabrics together and attach the straps which are also pre-made for you. There are several colors and patterns to choose from and you can complete the dress in less than an hour!

This month's gardening tips from Vera Konjoian are: Trellis your cucumber plants to save space in your garden. A good amount of peat moss or mulch in your flower beds will eliminate weeding and maintain moisture for your ever thirsty flowers.

When your flowers stretch and get "leggy" cut them back 2 to 3 inches beyond the flower and remember to feed them. An acid fertilizer should be used for your Rodys, Azaleas and Hydranger.

A little bit of Fifth Avenue right in our own backyard: I'm sure you have noticed the ads for Salon L'Ambeyr here in the Townsman. I've seen them many times and finally decided to investigate. I entered the shop and felt the professional atmosphere immediately, without the feeling of just having entered a private club to which I don't belong, as so many big city salons make me feel. Mary, the manager, greeted me warmly and I was taken right on time. A few hours later I emerged feeling fabulous. European skin care, professionally applied make-up, French Braids by Gary, Sculpture nails by Tasha. It's all here on Riverina Road — right behind Woodworth Motors. Imagine a little bit of Fifth Avenue with a place to park!

Meet The Manager

William and Thomas Barron

On the corner of Lowell Street and Haggitts Pond Road stands an Andover landmark known as Barrons Variety Store and gas station. This year marks the 50th anniversary of the store in West Andover that has saved the day for so many of us. They carry everything from batteries to raisins and are open 362 days a year. The off days being Christmas, Thanksgiving and New Year's day.

Barrons Variety was built in 1931 by William F. Barron who owned and operated it until 1951 when Thomas L. Barron, his son, inherited the store. Tom has lived in Andover all of his life and attended Osgood School. He has one daughter, Shirley Barron Belisle, who resides in Andover with her husband, Everett, and Tom's youngest granddaughter, Michelle. His oldest granddaughter, Nancy Geldart, also resides in Andover.

Recently Tom decided to semi-retire and sold the store to his nephew, Charles S. Barron, who incidentally is better known as Chuck and worked at the store as a youngster. Chuck resides on Bellevue Road with his wife, Shirley, and their daughter, Brenda, 23, and son, Douglas, 18. Presently Chuck is renovating and the place is like a little doll house. He has also increased his stock to the delight of all who use this convenience store so often. The next time you're in the area I'm happy to say you can still stop in and say hi to Tom.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark E. Deacon

Deacon—Fionte

Elaine Mary Fionte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene V. Fionte of Andover, wed Mark Elliott Deacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Deacon, Jr. of Stuart, Fla., formerly of Andover, June 7 in Christ Church.

Officiating at an ecumenical ceremony were Fr. Frank Nash, O.S.A., and the Rev. Donald Woodward.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a high neck Quiana gown with attached cut-a-way chapel train, trimmed with silk Venice lace with a mantilla veil to match.

Elise F. Pike, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Maribeth Legendre was bridesmaid.

Wayne Deacon was best man. James Dusza and Bruce Deacon ushered.

The reception was held at the Hillview Country Club in North Reading.

The couple will reside in Rochester, N.Y.

Mrs. Deacon graduated from Andover High School, attended Merrimack College, and graduated from the University of Lowell as a mechanical engineer.

Her husband graduated from Andover High School and the University of Lowell as a mechanical engineer. They are both going to work for Eastman Kodak Co. of Rochester, N.Y., as engineers.

Graduates

Harrison Bedrosian, son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul H. Bedrosian, 2 Lancaster Place, Andover, was graduated on June 6 from Chapel Hill - Chauncy Hall School, Waltham. He will attend Bradford College in September where he will study liberal arts.

Students In Recital

A piano recital, given by the pupils of Gertrude T. Brouady, was held at Phillips Academy's Underwood Room recently.

Popular, semi-popular and classical pieces by Bach, Beethoven, Chopin and Mozart were played by the 28 students who participated. Anna and Lisa Minkinen played duets.

The beginners who played were Melissa Kirkiles, Nicole Angelos, David Lewin, David Hughes, Vicki Meli, Merri Puglia, Jim Astbury, Anna Minkinen, Robert Ashworth, Chris Brouady, Jeffrey Wynn, Chris Bloh, Ricky Pass, Christine Basile, Maya Emshwiller and Ellice Ostoh.

Also playing were intermediates, Beth Wynn, Mark Angelos, Sheryl Stephens, Mary Orner, Robert Devaney, Kimberley Pass, Lisa Minkinen and Randy Smith. Advanced students performing were Susan Kachen, Kathy Rehe and Melissa Craig.

Nursing Program

A new master of Science in Nursing degree program for part-time graduate students has been announced by Salem State College President Dr. James T. Amsler and Dr. Nancy Harrington, Dean of the Division of Graduate and Continuing Education.

Information on the program and on enrollment procedures will be available starting July 1, 1981, and may be obtained from the Division of Graduate and Continuing Education, Salem State College, Salem, MA 01970.

The first courses in the MS in Nursing will be offered in the January-May 1982 evening session. Nurses who have earned a Bachelor's degree with a major in Nursing from an institution accredited by the National League for Nursing will be eligible for admission.

Watershed

A paved acre sheds almost 30,000 gallons of water for each inch of rain. This water should be channeled to return to the ground instead of to storm drains, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

Dollhouse Exhibition

The Workshop of Enchanted Elves (W.E.E.) will be presenting its Fourth Annual Dollhouse Exhibition and Sale Saturday, August 8th at the Elks Hall, Low St., Newburyport. W.E.E. is made up of miniature enthusiasts from the North Shore area and each year sponsors an exhibition of fine dollhouses from private collections. Previous shows have been very well attended and this year W.E.E. hope to have an all new exhibition.

Anyone interested in exhibiting their dollhouse, miniature box, or miniature setting is asked to get in touch with Cecile Pimental, Middle Rd., Newbury, Mass. 01950.

Visitors to the show will be asked to vote for their favorite exhibit in each category. Ribbons will be awarded to the winners.

Added Pass

The Andona Society has presented Memorial Hall library with an additional pass to Boston's Museum of Science for use by Andover families. Making the presentation to Anne O'Brien, head of circulation, right, are, Jean Prugh, Andona Goals chairman and Joan Orrick, Andona president.

Museum Pass Presented

Memorial Hall Library has announced that an additional family pass for Boston's Museum of Science is now available to Andover resident, thanks to the Andona Society.

For a number of years, the Friends of the Library have provided for library patrons free passes to the science Museum, Museum of Fine Arts, Children's Museum, New England Aquarium, Museum of Transportation and the Peabody Museum of Salem. The recent popularity of the Science Museum pass has required reservations months in advance. The new pass should help to alleviate this situation.

Rules governing the use of passes are:

Crafts Fair

The annual West Parish Craft Fair will be held Saturday, Nov. 7, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Applications for tables are available from the church office. Summer office hours are 9 a.m. to noon.

To be considered, applications must be returned by Aug. 1.

Pulling Wool

*The expression "pulling the wool over his eyes" goes back to the days when gentlemen wore powdered wigs. If you pulled a man's wig (wool) over his eyes, he would be unable to see what was going on.

reservations may be made by phone or at the library circulation desk: one pass per family per day, no more than two passes per month per family; passes restricted to Andover residents only.

Fashion Show

A fashion show in a splashy, pond setting highlights the opening of the New England Aquarium's new exhibit, "Reflections on a New England Pond", Wednesday, July 1, at noon.

Outdoors, IN the fountain on the Aquarium plaza, models will demonstrate a variety of outdoor fashions from noon until 12:45 p.m.

The fashion show, sponsored by L. L. Bean of Freeport, Maine, includes apparel for men and women for any type of outdoor activity including camping, hiking, bird watching, sailing and canoeing. The emphasis will be on versatility and durability, a hallmark of Bean clothing.

Homes Needed

A foreign exchange program with 19 students from northern Spain will be conducted from July 1 to August 2 in Andover by a local private tutoring agency, the Beaven Agency. The program is designed to improve the conversational English of the Spanish students as well as provide a rewarding experience for local families who host them. The headquarters for the program in July will be the A.B.C. House on Main Street in Andover which will be used for classroom instruction and various get togethers. It will also be the residence for the family of the co-director of the program, Senor Juan A. Oteo of Las Arenas, Vizcaya, Spain.

The program would like to place three more students with local host families. The three are 15-year-old boys. Families who might have an interest, especially where someone is studying Spanish, should get in touch with Peter Beaven at 17 Lockway Road, Andover.

A senorita who teaches English in Bilbao and who is accompanying the group to Andover would also very much appreciate the opportunity to stay with an American family during the program.

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 25, 1981

Christ Church Nursery Class

Christ Church Nursery School ended its 12th year with a picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kalkstein, Phillips Academy. Classmates shared a day of fun together, and summer birthdays were celebrated.

Field trips before the end of school included the Walter D. Stone Zoo in Stoneham, The Phillips Academy Bird Sanctuary, Drumlin Farm and the Lawrence General Hospital, all under the supervision of Elaine Viehmann, teacher-director, and Jayne deConstant, teacher. A visit from the Bancroft All Star Band was also a highlight.

Students of the 1980-81 class were: Adam Anderson, Jamie Bellizia, Jennifer Bralower, Mark Cutler, Tommy Daily, Lisa Gabriel, Erin Gammon, John Gruener, Emily Kalkstein, Megan Kelley, Stacy Labarre, Robbie Lewis, Chi Thi Nguyen, Quang Van Nguyen, Corie O'Brien, Greg Robinson, Matthew Thresher, Stacy Thresher, Stephen Tsepas and Meagan Weddle.

The directors for 1981-82 will be: Edith King, chairman; Mary Kay Weddle, secretary; Susan Witham, treasurer; Mary Lou Lowrie, hospitality; Margretta O'Leary, scholarships; Susan rolfs, admissions; Maureen Bardsley, admissions; Marily

Chorus Members Honored

The North Parrish Treble Chorus concluded its concert season with a pool party at which awards were given to the following Andover choral member.

Receiving certificates were: Anne Skelton, "Outstanding"; Caelin Graber, "Drama" and "Perfect Attendance," both of East Junior High; Deborah Hanscom, "Drama" of Bancroft; Mark Driscoll, "Junior Chorister Award: Outstanding Second/Third Year Chorister" of Pike School; Frank Padellaro, "Drama" of Bancroft; Sarah Skelton, "Artistic" of West Elementary; Tara Bachner, "St. Cecilia Award: Outstanding First Year Chorister" and "Perfect Attendance" of Bancroft; and Hilary Driscoll, "Outstanding" of South School.

The Treble Chorus members are now preparing for Singers Workshop, Aug. 17-21 to be held at Union Congregational Church in North Reading from 8:45 to 12:10 each day. The workshop offers courses in voice, theory, music appreciation and classical choral repertoire. Not limited to Treble Chorus members, the week-long school is open to all area young people 8-14 who enjoy singing.

Because of limited openings, candidates should apply by July 5. Arrangements may be made by calling Alix Driscoll, Andover.

Hoyt, vestry liaison and admissions; Sandra Parent, publicity; George Harris, equipment; and Barbara Platt, ex-officio.

Children who are enrolled for the 1981-82 school year are: Allison Bartlett, Sara Bryce, Cynthia Carlson, Beth Cummins, C.J. Dadd, Timmy Doyle, Daniel Evans, Adam Freund, Amanda Gallant, Scott Gray, Justin Kung, Heidi Lucht, Michael Mano, Nate Roberts, Diantha Roen, Patrick Russo, Sarah Schorr, Caroline Vallee, Amy Wilkins and Michael Yoder.

School will reopen Sept. 9. Any inquiries regarding the school may be directed to any member of the board.

New Priest Assigned To St. Robert's

Rev. Frederick J. Collins, pastor of St. Robert Bellarmine Church, Andover-Tewksbury, announced that Cardinal Medeiros has assigned a newly ordained priest, Rev. Thomas F. Nestor, to serve in the West Andover-North Tewksbury parish. The new associate pastor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Nestor of West Roxbury.

Father Nestor attended Boston Latin School and Harvard University. He completed his theological studies at St. John's Seminary, Brighton, served as a deacon at St. Matthew's Church, Dorchester, and was ordained to the priesthood at Holy Cross Cathedral on Saturday, June 20. Father Nestor will report to St. Robert's on June 30 to begin his assignment.

"We are very pleased with the news," said Father Collins. "Our parish is young and growing and very active, and we will surely be able now to continue all the programs that have been going so well in recent years."

Director In Theatre Competition

The good wishes of the CFC Players, newly formed theatrical group of the Christian Formation Center, Andover, accompany their director, William Callahan, who will be in Kalamazoo, Mich., this week for the national competition of Community Theatre groups. Callahan is a member of the Garrett Players of Lawrence, who won first place in the 1980 New England competition and the right to represent New England in the national competition. The Garrett Players won this right with their presentation of "Suicide in Bb."

The winner of the nine groups from different parts of the country competing in the national competition, will go on to Monaco as the guest of Princess Grace to represent the U.S.A. in the world competition.

Under the direction of William Callahan, the Formation Center group, known as the CFC Players, presented their first offering last fall. It was the melodrama "Curse You, Jack Dalton!" They are currently in rehearsal for a presentation in late September of Agatha Christie's "Ten Little Indians."

The CFC Players have applied for membership in The New England Theatre Conference and hope eventually to enter the annual competition of the NETC Festival.

Chapel To Launch Program

The word is "all systems go!" as children in kindergarten through seventh grades will "take off" June 28 at 11 a.m. at the Andover Bible Chapel, on Lowell Street.

Each Sunday morning during July and August, there will be a lively "get acquainted" song time, followed by a short, easily understood Bible story, given by dedicated men and women teachers. Next comes a busy craft period, when the contestants will put together some interesting projects, to be taken home when completed.

Every child will be given, early in September, a suitable, valuable award for consistent and faithful attendance. All in these age levels will be welcomed to these activities; admission is free, and there is no obligation.

A well-known judge in this country has said that "children brought up in Sunday school are seldom brought up in court."

For more information, contact the chapel at 226 Lowell St.

On President's List

Elizabeth M. Darling, 11 Enfield Drive, Andover, and Paula C. Peluso, 545 Johnson St., North Andover, were among the students named to the President's List at Fitchburg State College for the spring semester.

The President's List honors students who achieve a 3.75 average in each of three successive semesters.

Darling and Peluso were both master's degree candidates in computer science.

Antiques

On July 7, 8 and 9, "The Ship" on the grounds of Wentworth-by-the-sea, Route 1-B, New Castle, N.H., will be the scene of the 16th annual Antiques Show sponsored by the Guild of Strawberry Banke, Inc.

Approximately 35 antiques dealers from all over the New England area and as far away as New Jersey and Maryland, will set up their booths at "The Ship" where they will display and sell a great variety of antiques. Collectors, antiques lovers and those who simply like to browse will enjoy the many artifacts from an earlier age when fine craftsmanship was prized. There will be sought after antiques from the households of great-grandmother's time such as exquisite china and silver; furniture fashioned by master craftsmen, brasses, crystal, paintings, lamps, vases and dozens of other displays of interest.

This show, under the direction of Lloyd A. Hathaway of Boston, is held each year to support the continuation of restorations at the historic preservation of Strawberry Banke, Inc. in Portsmouth, N.H.

More Elders

Longer life has become a visible fact, dramatized daily in the homes and street of America by 35 million persons aged 60 and over. In 1980, the total number of Americans 60 and over surpassed the first time the total number of children up to age 10 or youths from 11 to 19.

Shares Bat Mitzvah With Russian Girl

37

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 25, 1981

A Call Freedom

Michele Kara of 10 Serenity Lane delivers her Bat Mitzvah speech during a recent ceremony at Temple Emanuel. She "shared" her Bat Mitzvah with the young daughter of a Russian Jew; in her speech, Michele offered her hope that the family will soon be free to leave the Soviet Union.

Last month, Michele Elayne Karas of 10 Serenity Lane formally accepted her religious responsibilities in a traditional Bat Mitzvah ceremony at Temple Emanuel.

Exhibit

The photographs and woodcarvings of David Lazzaro will be on display each weekday 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. June 10 through June 30 at American Mutual Insurance Companies.

Lazzaro has been an active woodcarver for over fifteen years and only recently, in the past five years, has professionally developed his interest in photography.

He is a graduate of Huntington Prep in Boston and received an Associate degree from Boston University.

Lazzaro has studied watercolor at Vesper George School of Art and has taken various courses in photography, life drawing and sculpting. He has also taken courses in wood carving and cabinetmaking.

The caterpillar has more than 2,000 muscles.

But Michele celebrated more than her own transition into the adult Jewish community — she also accepted the Torah on behalf of a 13-year-old Russian girl who is not allowed to become Bat Mitzvah in her own country.

Kira Volvovsky lives in Gorky in the Soviet Union with her parents, Mila and Leonid Ananiovich Volvosky. Volvovsky, 39, a mathematician and radio engineer, applied to the Soviet government for permission to emigrate to Israel in 1974. His request was denied, and he was dismissed from his job; Volvovsky has not been employed since then.

"Kira and her family are not free to maintain Jewish culture," Michele explained in her Bat Mitzvah speech. "Because of the Soviet government, they are unable to celebrate Jewish festivals and family occasions with dignity."

For that reason, Michele chose to share her Bat Mitzvah with her Russian counterpart. The daughter of Anita and Leonard Karas, Michele is a seventh-grader at West Junior High. She is a member of the Temple Youth and the chorus at Temple

Emanuel, as well as a member of the Andover Church Basketball League.

The Karas family learned of the Volvovskys through Action for Soviet Jewry, a Waltham-based organization that works on behalf of the "refusniks" — Soviet Jews like Volvovsky who are denied both the right to emigrate and the right to practice their religion. The organization has arranged a number of shared Bar Mitzvahs and Bat Mitzvahs, called "twinings," throughout the state.

Michele has corresponded with Kira, who writes nearly flawless English: "My hobbies are music and English," Kira wrote in her first letter. "At school my favorite subjects are Algebra, Geometry & Gym. I have no animals. I'm eager to have them, but my mother is against it. She said the we'll have no piece because of animals."

Rabbi Harry Roth officiated at the May 16 services, and the cantor was Norman

Brody. As they entered the temple, friends and family were given post cards inscribed with a message in Russian and Hebrew, addressed to Kira. Michele asked those present to mail the cards to Kira, so she "and the Russian government will know that you care."

"The question arises," Michele asked in her speech, "since the Soviets are unwilling to avail themselves of (Volvovsky's) services, why can't he be allowed to go to the country he considers his homeland, where the work of his hands and his brain would be welcome?"

Michele added her hope that the Volvovskys "will be in Israel in a short time. On that day I shall say 'L'Chaim' with all the Jews in the world. Next year in Jerusalem!"

"And I shall sing the well-known Hebrew song, O'd Tireh, O'd Tireh, Kama Tor Y'H'Y Ba Shanah, Ha Ba ah!" she concluded. "You will see how good it will be next year!"

Space Available

Some openings still remain in the exercise for expectant mothers class which begins on Tuesday, July 7. The six-week class will teach relaxation techniques, exercises to tone up and strengthen muscles and improve posture and body mechanics to decrease low backache for a more comfortable pregnancy. Post-partum exercises will also be included. For more information or to register, call the DCS office.

Cabaret

For the fourth year in a row, the Loon and Heron Theatre is performing at the Marblehead Arts Festival. On July 3, the Loon and Heron Theatre presents Sea Chanties, a colorful cabaret of dance and music of sea work and "leisure" times of the past century.

Sea Chanties is performed by four performers with the use of puppets, dance, and live instrumentation - fiddle, pipes, banjo, mandolin, guitar, and auto-harp. Here, the Loon and Heron sailors call forth the 18th and 19th century American sea lore with familiar folk melodies and tales of the fateful sea.

During the 80-81 school year, the Loon and heron Theatre performed for over a hundred local children of Marblehead. In previous arts festivals, the Loon and Heron Theatre has featured Grunion and the Grouch, Baby and the Bear, and In a Pickle, all of which were received with great responses.

Showtime at the Marblehead Arts Festival is at 11 a.m.

Garden Club Award

Willard J. Robinson, Andover High sophomore, is congratulated by Mrs. Miles Pendleton who is presenting scholarship to attend the Massachusetts Conservation Camp for two weeks this summer. Mrs. Pendleton is chairman of the Garden Club environment action committee which makes the award annually.

Presented Scholarship

Andover High School student William J. Robinson, 16, is this year's recipient of the Conservation Camp Scholarship sponsored by the Andover Garden Club. He was nominated by Mr. Danforth of the high school science department, and selected by a faculty committee.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Robinson of Rose Glen Drive.

Mrs. Miles Pendleton, chairman of the action committee for the environment for the garden club, explains that the scholarship entitles a young person from the community to attend a two-week summer camp at the Worcester 4H center. The camp teaches students conservation of natural resources and outdoor recreational skills.

The student then returns these skills to Andover, for the benefit of the community, Mrs. Pendleton says.

WJH Students Honored At Final Assembly

West Junior High School ninth graders were honored for their achievements of the past year during the annual awards assembly recently held at the school.

Ninth-graders marched into the auditorium to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" for their final assembly in junior high, before an audience of family and fellow students. Susan Burke sang the national anthem, and Student Council President Maura King led the salute to the flag and offered welcoming words.

Following a reflection by Robert Rikeman of the Student Council and a rendition of the song "Soft Rain" by the West Side Singers, the following awards and prizes were presented.

The Principal's Award was presented to Maura King, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert King of 17 William St., and Elaine Scanlon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Scanlon of 4 William St., with equal merit, and to Robert Rikeman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rikeman of 34 Rutgers Road. This award is presented to the student who, in the opinion of the principal, meets the highest personal standards set by the school.

Faculty awards, presented to the boy and girl who, in the opinion of the faculty, have demonstrated character, loyalty, scholarship and a good attitude, were presented to Anita Mattedi, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Mattedi of 8 Oriole Drive, and, with equal merit, to Thomas Lord, the son of Ms. Luanna Lord of 72 Essex St. and Robert Rikeman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rikeman of 34 Rutgers Road.

High Honors awards, presented for outstanding academic achievement, were

Dog Is Banished From Town

The selectmen have ordered a three-year-old German shepherd accused of biting two small children permanently removed from the town, after a public hearing at Memorial Hall Library Monday night.

Four selectmen agreed that the dog, owned by Raymond and Della Coots of 4 Whiffle Tree Circle, is vicious and a nuisance, and should not be allowed to remain in the community. Selectman Edward Harris abstained from the vote.

During a long and sometimes emotional hearing, Jay and Anita Sandler of 2 Whiffle Tree Circle told the selectmen in sworn testimony that the Coots' dog attacked their daughter, Melissa, 6, and son, Adam, 3, in the Sandlers' backyard on April 22.

The dog, called "Mack," apparently escaped through a hole dug under the six-foot high chain link fence that confines him to a pen in the Coots' backyard.

Andover Atty. Carl Berger, representing the Sandlers, said the girl required more than 60 stitches in her leg, where the dog bit her, while the boy also required "several stitches." Berger distributed photographs of the bites to the board, and Sandler held up a pair of jeans he said his daughter was wearing when she was bitten — putting his hand through a hole in the right leg.

"The dog kept on biting and biting and trying to drag her," Mrs. Sandler said of the incident. "I don't think a dog like that belongs in the neighborhood."

Sandler said the dog and another dog belonging to the Coots also ran into his garage on April 7, and bit his son on the shoulder. The boy was not hurt because he was wearing a heavy winter jacket. Sandler said. He said he did not report that incident to the dog officer.

"Right now I'm afraid," he told the selectmen. "The kids don't go out by themselves and when I go out, I carry a broomstick. I'm afraid inside my house. I'm afraid for my children, and for myself, and for my wife."

Both the Coots' dogs have been kept with a Westford trainer since shortly after the accident, and the selectmen ruled that the dogs should not be returned to Andover.

"To return the dog to the area would destroy the feeling of safety in the neighborhood," Selectman Jerry Silverman said. And Selectmen Chairman Norma Gammon added she felt "strongly" that she "would not want the dog in any neighborhood in this town. It is not living safely to have this fear all the time."

Before the vote was taken, the Coots argued that the dog is not vicious, but attacked the children only because they had provoked it by taunting it through the chain link fence.

Trainer Judy Bassett of Westford, who has custody of the dogs, said Mack has "never exhibited any sign of aggressiveness toward anyone. He is a very benign dog — he absolutely is not a vicious dog."

"Any dog in the world, if he were teased and agitated, could be persuaded to bite anyone," Bassett added.

Della Coots testified that she saw Mrs. Sandler and her little boy teasing the dogs through the fence on April 22, until she yelled at them to stop. A few minutes later she saw Mack in the Sandlers' yard, and ran over to pull the dog away, she said.

Mrs. Coots said she did not see the dog bite the children.

Raymond Coots told the selectmen that the dog and their younger female shepherd, "Nicky," spent most of their time in the house, and the rest of the time in the pen; they have never run free, he said.

Coots added that the Sandlers' dog, a poodle, was "let out to run on a daily basis," and often ran onto his property and annoyed the two German shepherds. Coots said he had never complained to the dog officer about the Sandler dog.

He also suggested that the hole under his fence seemed to be dug from outside the fence, and former Dog Officer William Canane agreed.

Selectmen Harris and Susan Poore voted to take the case under advisement, so that town counsel could provide further information on the legal definition of a vicious dog. But that motion was defeated by Gammon, Silverman and Donn Byrne.

Referring to the photographs of the girl's bite, Byrne said, "Once is enough for me."

Harris said he abstained from the final vote because "whether this dog is vicious or not has not been determined — we have no definition of viciousness — I am very sympathetic with the Sandlers, but I am not voting as a legal technicality."

And Poore suggested that if dogs are running free in the neighborhood, residents should report them to the dog officer immediately: "Please make complaints in a more timely fashion," she told the neighbors.

The board also heard another dog complaint Monday night: Betty Phillips, formerly of Richard Circle, charged that a Springer spaniel belonging to Mark Marchese of 5 Richard Circle killed her cat on her porch on Feb. 4. Phillips said the dog was constantly allowed to run free.

The selectmen voted unanimously to have the dog, which is unlicensed, immediately picked up and removed to a pound, to be retrieved at the owner's expense. If the dog is found running loose again within the next 90 days, the board will order it permanently removed from the town.

Licenses, Permits Approved

During a regular meeting of the selectmen at Memorial Hall Library Monday night, the board granted a number of licenses and permits.

New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. was granted a permit to lay and maintain underground conduits and manholes under the surface of Railroad Street, to serve the Tyer Rubber facilities and the new Andover Commons apartments now under construction.

Massachusetts Electric received approval to lay and maintain underground conduits under Rattlesnake Hill Road and Woburn Street.

Michael Nicholas of Haverhill was approved for a common victualler's license for Dyonics, Inc. at 160 Dascumb Road.

Bay State Gas was granted permission to excavate in Maple Court to replace existing gas service, and in Canterbury Street to extend a gas main for Stafford Lane.

And, sitting as sewer commissioners, the board approved sewer connections for 18 Alden Road; lot 2 and 5 Cattle Crossing; and 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47 Robins Wood Way. All conform to the master sewer plan, according to the town manager.

Planners Disturbed

The Planning Board is less than satisfied with the situation the town manager will leave them in when he resigns at the end of this month. The planners indicated Tuesday night.

The planners face a summer without the guidance of a Community Development and Planning director, since Rhys Kear resigned earlier this month. His successor will probably not be named until the fall.

And the board's secretary, Linda Nicoll, is leaving in less than two weeks; no replacement has been hired. Nicoll gave the town six weeks notice.

Acting Community Development Director Sam DeSalvo said the manager had approved the hiring of a part-time secretary to assist him, adding that Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark apparently assumed that would free other department secretaries to work for the planners.

But the planners' secretary must carry out a number of complicated functions involving legal deadlines and notifications. DeSalvo said: He said he doubted that other department secretaries could fill the position adequately.

Planner Jack Tomlinson said strongly that without a secretary, the board would find itself in "a chaotic condition. I am not

The $13.72 million school building project, five years in the planning, moved closer to reality this week: contracts have been signed with the two contractors, and ground will be broken at the high school auditorium site tomorrow morning.

The town manager signed a $10,680,735 contract with Peabody Construction Co. yesterday morning for renovations and additions at the Doherty School, West Junior High and the high school. Last Friday, a $478,786 contract was signed with Meola Construction Co. for renovation of the secondary school playing fields.

And the state School Building Assistance Bureau (SBAB) Tuesday morning approved cuts made in the building program after bids came in above the $11 million budget appropriated by 1980 town meeting. Town meeting increased that budget by $2 million earlier this month.

There is still some hope, however, that some of the plans cut from the project, called alternates, will be carried out. Peabody Construction estimates it may be able to shave some time off the construction schedule — which calls for completion by September, 1983 — thus saving the town some money. That money could be used to accomplish some plans dropped from the project.

The school building committee Thursday night voted unanimously to support the school committee's list of priorities for the alternates, which gives top priority to tennis courts at Doherty, at $105,000.

Richard McGrail, project coordinator for the school administration, explained that the courts are part of the educational program, because they would create equal educational opportunities at the two junior high schools (West Junior High has tennis courts). And building committee member Virginia Cole added that there are no public tennis courts on the east side of town for community use.

The next priority is a $22,000 driveway in front of the Doherty School. Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said the driveway would be used by visitors as well as the handicapped, and was also important for "aesthetic reasons".

If additional funds are still available, the school committee would like some help in paying for a new roof for Doherty, at $120,000. McGrail explained that the roof will be taken care of in any event out of the school budget, but the school committee would like the contractor's financial assist if possible.

The remaining priorities established by the two committees are an outdoor dining patio at the high school ($23,400), an outdoor dining patio at Doherty ($15,000), an enlarged heating system at Doherty to heat the two remaining wings of East Junior High ($62,000) and a dual-fuel heating system that would also serve East ($73,000).

Building committee vice chairman Richard Landry explained that the heating systems ended up at the bottom of the list because the selectmen have indicated they are "not interested" in providing for the two EJH wings that will not be part of the new Doherty junior high. Those wings may someday be reused by the town, or they may eventually be demolished.

Alternates that definitely will be included in the project, thanks to town meeting's $2 million boost, are a greenhouse ($56,000) and new windows ($2,500) at Doherty; physical education storage space ($95,000) and an automotive shop ($138,000) at the high school; and lights ($13,000), a ceiling ($12,000) and thermal insulation ($7,800) at West.

Under the building project, the former elementary school at Doherty will be converted into a junior high school, using the auditorium and gymnasium in East Junior High's Memorial Auditorium. A new addition will also be built at Doherty for more classroom space.

A new 1,250-seat auditorium will be built at the high school, along with other renovations, and a new Instructional Materials Center (I.M.C., or library) will be added at West Junior High, along with classroom renovations.

New Shops For Plaza; Cinema Abandoned

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Plans to build a twin cinema in Shawsheen Plaza that roused the protests of Shawsheen neighbors last December have been abandoned, and two new stores will occupy the proposed theatre space instead.

Six months ago the selectmen granted David DeFilippo a motion picture license for a 400-seat twin cinema in the 25,555-square foot addition currently under construction at the plaza. But DeFilippo has since decided not to open the theatre because it would not be "economically justifiable." Andover Atty. Dominic Terranova said Tuesday.

A new addition to the Showcase Cinema currently under construction off Route 114, in Lawrence may have discouraged DeFilippo from opening the theatre.

DeFilippo's Village Cinema would have been the first movie theatre in Andover in several years, since the Andover Playhouse on Essex Street closed its doors.

According to Ed Simon of Abco Realty Co., 30 Park St., leasing agent for Shawsheen Plaza, a boutique and a Papa Gino's restaurant will now fill the space originally planned for the cinema.

A total of 11 stores will occupy the new addition, being built in the right corner of the plaza, and all but two have been leased, Simon explained. The new stores will include clothing and craft stores, a jewelry store, camera store, electronics store and a chain optometry shop.

The new stores may be completed and open for business by late August or September.

Pleasant Prospects

With the advent of summer and the vacation season, thoughts are generally on the more pleasant side as contemplation of the annual sojourn from the daily grind is anticipated.

For Andover, the vacation season has its official kickoff this weekend with the annual Sidewalk Bazaar conducted by the Andover Center Merchants of the Andover Chamber of Commerce.

While there are playground openings, Poms Pond activities underway and other such events, the summer season never seems to be official until the downtown merchants put on their annual two days of fun and bargains.

This year, there will be a carnival atmosphere again in the downtown area, and on Saturday afternoon the appearance of a soap opera star to meet and chat with what must be innumerable followers in the local area.

But there are other things which get the summer of '81 off to a pleasant start for those of an optimistic nature, such as:

School Groundbreaking: As of Friday morning at 8 a.m., the long-discussed school building project will become a reality with groundbreaking ceremonies at the high school.

It's good to see the project underway, following the years of discussion and debate, the reworking of plans, the adding of funds and the other intricacies which have occupied Andover residents.

There have been delays in getting the project underway since it was first presented to town meeting for planning funds over two years ago.

But the delays, while frustrating at times, have been beneficial.

In the long run, the town has saved money in the process, through the course of rethinking the town's needs over the next decade or so, as well as the utilization of facilities already available and structurally sound.

By September of 1983, the Andover school plant will have been updated and refurbished to meet the educational needs of the '80's. A new junior high building will replace the old East Junior High, a new auditorium and added classrooms will be placed at the high school and a new media center will be built at the West Junior High.

Hopefully this will complete Andover's educational plant needs for years to come and the time spent in planning it over these past few years must be considered as valuable and advantageous.

Bradlee School: A town meeting action which passed with little notice was the sale of the Bradlee school in Ballardvale to Francis P. Reilly, an Andover contractor, for development into housing units.

The move is a good one.

Bradlee has been idle for over 20 years, sitting on a hill, boarded up and just a useless structure awaiting someone's action.

The town, assisted by the Ballardvale Village Improvement Association, made a concerted effort this past year to do something about the future of the building, resulting in its sale to Reilly by town meeting.

The new owner of the building plans a substantial investment in rehabilitating the building to an again-useful structure. Being an Andover native should insure that the work will be done with the character of the town in mind.

The result should become a core of further development within the Ballardvale area, insuring its continued place in Andover history as the historic village it is.

Shawsheen School: While the closing of the Shawsheen School removes the historic structure from the actual learning process of Andover's educational plant, it is pleasant to note that it will continue to be a useful structure for town needs.

Due to declining enrollments and the need to economize, the school committee voted this year to close Shawsheen. The decision was accelerated to a degree by Proposition 2½ which mandated curtailed municipal spending.

But, it will remain not only a part of the town's real estate, but also dedicated to school use as it is converted into administrative offices for the school department.

When originally built over 50 years ago, it was part of what was known as William Wood's dream village, a self-contained community within the town. Much of what Wood envisioned remains visible in Shawsheen and it is pleasant to see the school remain a useful and integral part of the village.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — June 1906

William M. Wood has purchased nine acres of land from Rosina Tuso which adjoins his estate in Frye Village and which added to his already large possession makes one of the finest estates in Essex County. The papers were passed on Thursday.

The running time of the electric cars on the Andover and Haverhill line has been changed to conform with the time of the Reading cars. The Haverhill cars will now leave the square at 20 minutes to the hour in the morning and 10 minutes past the hour and 20 minutes to the hour in the afternoon.

Morrison and O'Connell, the well-known blacksmiths and carriage manufacturers have just completed some fine wagons and carts for the new Wood Worsted mill in Lawrence and all are fine specimens of workmanship. The set includes a single and double tip cart, a heavy Concord express wagon, and a truck. A fine rubber tired ball bearing carriage has also been made for Mr. Wood, to be used at his residence.

Thomas Bentley will conduct the first fishing party of the season to Marblehead tomorrow. The party will leave the square tomorrow at 7 o'clock and will sleep on board the boat. An early start will be made for the fishing grounds and it is hoped that there will be a large haul, as it is reported the fish are plentiful.

A new fire alarm box has been installed between the farms of Freeman Abbot and George Pillsbury in the southern portion of the town. The number is 21.

50 Years Ago — June 1931

The Addison Gallery of American Art, at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., given in memory of Keturah Addison, will open its doors to the public on Monday evening. The gallery will give the students at the Academy and people throughout New England an opportunity to familiarize themselves with many of the works of great American artists, not only in oil paints and water colors, but in silver, pewter, glass, ship models and etchings. It is hoped that the influence of the Gallery will extend far beyond the boundaries of Phillips Academy and play its part in the development of all branches of American art.

A break at Louie's Tea Room on North Main Street near the Lawrence line was reported at the Andover police station on Wednesday morning. A pane of glass was broken over the window catch. Candy and cigars were stolen and drawers had been ransacked.

Francis A. McClellan has returned from a month's trip in the South West on his motorcycle. He rode over 9,000 miles. He reports that all of the way from San Francisco there was rain, sleet and snow, with a severe blizzard in Wyoming.

Elaine Eaton of the Stowe School took the first Varnum Lincoln prize of $10.00 as well as the first eighth-grade Alfred Lincoln prize at the annual spelling match held in town hall last Friday evening. The second prize of $6.00 in the finals was won by Frances Jamieson of the John Doye School and the third prize of $4.00 by Irene Stott of the Shawsheen School.

25 Years Ago — June 1956

A clear decision has not yet been reached on Raytheon Manufacturing Company's occupancy of the Shawsheen mills — but the way was substantially cleared Monday night when the board of appeals gave its approval to the move. Raytheon, meanwhile, announced a short extension of its option to buy the mills.

A $50 award to the Punchard Service Club has been announced by the Scholastic Magazines, with the National Association of Students Councils. It is one of 30 A.K. Oliver Citizenship awards given throughout the nation. However, only 10 of the awards are given to groups other than student councils.

The Andover Sportman's Club held its annual trout derby for the enjoyment of Andover's youngsters at Hussey's Pond Saturday and Sunday. Prior to the big day, the committee in charge of the derby stocked the pond with 300 trout ranging in size from 9 to 11½ inches and from the number of fish taken home to mother or the car by the enthusiastic fishermen.

Explaining The Duties

administrator.

In the Editorial "Perilous Times" appearing in The Andover Townsman for June 11, 1981, there appears, standing by itself, the statement, "Selectmen are elected to retain a municipal administrator. They are, in effect, the board of directors of a major, public corporation who are to oversee the work of the professional

It is possible that the above quotation, standing alone as it does, may create an incorrect understanding among your readers of the functions of the Board of Selectmen. For that reason I am writing this letter as a private individual, although I am one of that Board.

To quote the Town Charter (Mass. G.L. Chap. 571): The Board of Selectmen shall be considered the makers of policy of the Town government, except as otherwise directed by Statutes or by the Town Charter. The Town Manager shall be responsible for ensuring that the boards, officers and representatives of the Town comply with policy determinations of the Selectmen.

In addition, the Board of Selectmen functions as the Licensing Board, the Board of Water Commissioners, the Board of Sewer Commissioners and performs other statutory functions. In short, the responsibilities of the Board of Selectmen are not limited to the appointment of a Town Manager.

I should add before closing that I am extremely distressed to see Jared Clark resign his position as Town Manager for whatever reason, at this critical time.

Having had a hand in his selection and having worked with him for three years, I have found him very able and dedicated to the performance of his duty. The Town

Charter charges the Manager with the "preparation of plans and the supervision of work on all construction, reconstruction..." Now the Selectmen will have to find a new Manager who can carry on. I will be surprised if we can find one as able. I hope and pray that the people of the town will support the Board in whatever it is able to achieve in that regard.

Be sure to stop by The Andover Haven table at the Sidewalk Bazaar tomorrow—Friday—across from the town hall in front of the bank, where they will have all kinds of homemade foods as well as a lovely assortment of new, handmade sweaters, booties, afghans, ceramic pieces—all made by Haven members.

Next Monday, Nancy Gallagher will take you on a trip to Hong Kong and Bangkok. That's June 29 at 2 p.m. Such a lovely way to travel! This is the second program in the travelogue series.

The Haven will be closed July 3 in celebration of Independence Day.

The Edavill trip scheduled for July 14 is filling fast. If you are interested in going, don't delay any longer. Sign up today! The cost is $13.50 and includes a delicious chicken dinner.

Although the Boston Harbor cruise is not until August 13, the lists are already more than half-full.

The hot lunch program will resume Monday, June 29. But please note that luncheon is served an hour earlier 12 noon. You can make your reservations right up until 10 o'clock of the morning of the day you wish to attend. Call The Haven (470-0870) for reservations. Please do call, so that there will be ample food.

There is still room in the many classes beginning their summer session next week at the center. Why not call and find out if there is room for you! There probably will be and you will be assured of a happy learning time in a fun-filled, air-conditioned atmosphere!

The next mini-clinic will be held Tuesday, July 7, at The Haven, from 2 to 4 p.m. Appointments must be made through the Health Department 475-7820.

Every Wednesday afternoon an informal consultation and blood pressure session is held at the senior center—The Haven—from 2 to 3 p.m. No appointments are required for this service.

On Dean's List

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute has announced the names of students who have made the dean's list for the spring 1981 semester. From the local area:

Richard Malool of 48 Juniper Road, Andover, a sophomore majoring in chemical engineering.

Dean L. Swan of 13 Smithshire Estate, Andover, a senior majoring in chemical engineering.

Paul Streinz Hempstead of 8 Sagamore Drive, Andover, a sophomore majoring in electrical engineering.

To qualify for the dean's list, candidates must be full-time students, earn at least a 3.0 grade average out of a possible 4.0 and have no grade lower than "C."

It was once believed that if a person dreams of a river, something stands between him and his wishes.

Junior High Reading Club
Young Adult Reading Club at Memorial Hall Library will hold its initial meeting on Wednesday morning, July 1, at 10 a.m. Students currently attending junior high school, or entering in September, are invited to join the group which discusses new books, movies and other topics of general interest with the young adult librarian, Leslie Baskin. Mrs. Baskin has also compiled a new Junior High Reading List which will be helpful to all in selecting books for summer reading.

Where Are Those Books And Records??
Now is the time, as school ends and before you leave town for the summer, to check around the house, unearth that overdue book or record and return it to the library. While Memorial Hall Library does not charge fines for overdue, borrowed items should be returned promptly for the benefit of others seeking information.

Summer Programs At Ballardvale

For juniors, beginning Thursday, July 2, and continuing through August 27, a summer reading program for children 6-12 years old (grades 1-6) will be held at the Ballardvale Branch Library. During this time, each child, in order to earn their reading certificate, just report on at least four or more books that he or she has read during this summer. A special award will be given to the boy and the girl who has read the most books.

For young adults, on Thursday, July 2, and continuing through August 27, a Paperback Reading Contest for Young Adults (seventh grade and up), will begin at the Ballardvale Branch. An award will be given to the two young adults who read the most paperbacks during this eight week period. Those who wish may write a short review of the books they have read to be compiled in a small booklet at the end of the program. An adult library card is necessary to participate in this program.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Shortage of inspectors means abundance of waste

By JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON — President Reagan promised the American people that his administration will pursue every allegation of wrongdoing thoroughly and objectively. But his budget-cutters don't seem to have gotten the message.

The Office of Management and Budget has put a limit on the number of inspectors general and their staffs. The IGs are supposed to be the taxpayers' first line of defense against waste and corruption.

But the budget-cutters have set a limit of 5,500 employees for all of the IG offices in the federal government. Critics of this penny-wise, pound-foolish policy have amassed some grim figures that show just how inadequate this police force is.

Here's one example: The Environmental Protection Agency has a $29 billion construction program. It involves 12,000 federal grants. Yet the EPA has a grand total of only 10 investigators in its IG office.

Any third-grader could figure that out: Each EPA investigator is supposed to oversee 1,200 government grants.

That's bad enough. But EPA officials told Congress that of their 10 investigators, only three or four are professionally qualified. The rest are still being trained as criminal investigators.

In fact, the agency's investigative strength is spread so thin that there isn't a single investigator for the 12-state Chicago region. The 13-state Western Region also doesn't have a single EPA investigator; and that region includes California, the nation's most populous state.

There are other examples: At the Commerce Department, it has been estimated that if the inspector general's staff tried to do every job it is required by law to do, with their present staff they could do a management audit only once every 36 years.

And at the Labor Department, the IG's office pointed with pride to the job it has done weeding out waste and fraud in Comprehensive Employment and Training Act programs. But officials admitted that it is the only program they have been able to investigate. They don't have the staff to look into the activities of the rest of the Labor Department.

Rep. Elliott Levitas, D-Ga., is bitter about the administration's failure to give adequate funding to the inspectors general. He accuses President Reagan of "blowing smoke in the eyes of the American public."

Partisan rhetoric aside, it is strange that the parsimonious Republican administration has seen fit to pinch pennies on the inspectors general budget. We have been told that for every dollar spent on IG investigations, the government gets back anywhere from $5 to $7.

That's the kind of economy in government that a Republican ought to appreciate.

TEMPERAMENTAL MISSILES: America's nuclear umbrella may not work in the rain. According to a classified Defense Department report, if it is raining or snowing in the Soviet Union when the United States launches its missiles, they may miss the targets.

The secret report reveals that there is no such thing as a missile system that can perform in all weather conditions. States the document:

"The missile warhead is eroded by ice-cloud particles and water droplets upon re-entry through regions of adverse weather. This can result in a loss of aerodynamic configuration and hence a decrease in the accuracy of the missile. In the extreme case, physical breakup of the re-entry vehicle can result."

What the Pentagon is admitting is that, if there is bad weather over the Soviet Union, the warheads may miss their targets. And bad weather over Russia is not all that rare.

The secret Pentagon report also says that high winds and fluctuations in air density and temperature may affect the accuracy of the missiles.

What it all boils down to is that America's nuclear force may not be as effective as we have been led to believe it is.

HEADLINES & FOOTNOTES: The FBI is now wrapping up its probe of allegations that Paula Parkinson, Washington's sexiest lobbyist, traded her favors for votes. Now we've learned that the G-men are also quietly investigating charges that the attractive tattletale was involved in a Kansas insurance swindle. Paula denies the allegations.

— Secret Service agents were X-raying the mail delivered to the White House recently when a greeting card addressed to the president suddenly began flashing. As it turned out, the card was rigged with batteries so it would light up. But for one terrible moment, the Secret Service agents thought it was a bomb.

— Earlier this year, a U.S. government geologist predicted that Peru would be rocked this summer by violent earthquakes. It's a little awkward for the United States to be forecasting another nation's disasters, so the State Department hunted up scientists who would refute the geologist's prediction. But just in case, State Department employees are quietly being trained in how to deal with emergency evacuations in an earthquake zone. The Peruvians have not been informed about the training program.

A Tribute To Rick

By Dan Grams

Too often we take for granted a man like Rick Harrison and the contributions that he has made to the youngsters of Andover. This past Saturday many of Rick's past and present players and families took time to honor this special man referred to as "Mr. Awesome."

Rick has a long list of credentials which he has accumulated while taking part in youth sports over the past 15 years. These credits include Little League baseball, Church League basketball, Andover youth basketball, All Star basketball, state tournament teams (baseball) and of course, Rick's pride and joy, Andover Babe Ruth Baseball.

He has recently been recognized by the Merrimack Valley Coaches Association for his contributions in local sports down through the years as a sports reporter for the Lowell Sun.

There is only one word to describe a person like Rick and all he has done for the youths in Andover. Awesome! Few people have touched so many in so few years than Rick has.

Rick always seems to get the best out of youngsters. He has the ability to draw that little extra out and blend it into character.

Though the talent that Rick deals with is not always top notch, he always seems to develop it into a winner no matter what the outcome. Rick's patience and diligent work with Andover youngsters is envied by all who come in contact with him.

The most important lesson learned when playing for Rick is class. Rick has always set a standard as high on the field as off. He is a strong believer in doing the best at all times, regardless of the turnout. This belief has become a visible characteristic in all boys who have played under Rick, past or present. Many of the athletes who played under Rick have gone on to bigger and better things. The list of accomplishments of Rick's kids goes on and on, ranging from feats in high school to college.

Each boy has developed a special kind of relationship with him. Rick always seems to follow you throughout your career and, through various means, keeps in touch. Rick's past players are still close to him and every once in a while drop by to pay a visit to the man who made their youth years most memorable ones.

So, how can you ever thank a man for all he has done for you? The writeups in the Townsmen, which have given you your moment of glory, the coaching, going to professional games, the friendship built around sports, it's hard to even start to express the gratitude to a man who has done so much.

Among those paying tribute to Rick Saturday night were Bill Vickers, Andover High coach, who was toastmaster; Will Hixon, Andover High assistant principal and basketball coach; Glenn Verrette, a former player; Tim Grams, and Robert Firneran, Andover Townsmen editor.

In expressing his appreciation for the surprise tribute, Harrison said, "I would like to publicly express my thanks and gratitude to all the people who were in any way responsible for the events of last Saturday night."

"Each of you is and will always be special to me, and I feel very fortunate to be able to call each of you a friend."

"Individually and collectively you are very caring people, and again my thanks and appreciation for an evening I won't forget."

Rick Harrison was the recipient of gifts and appreciative commentary Saturday at the Andover K. of C., as over 200 gathered to pay tribute to his work with youth in Andover over the past 15 years. Upper photo, some of the past and present athletes say thanks. Below, Rick displays autographed basketball from one of his championship teams. Harrison also received a video tape machine among other gifts.

Senior Babe Ruth Now 6-2

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 25, 1981

Andover's Senior Babe Ruth team extended its record to 6-2 by defeating Lawrence Americans, 4-1, under the stadium lights and by sweeping a doubleheader from a strong Newburyport team via 5-0 and 7-1 scores, before a large turnout at the Andover Playstead.

Andover narrowly missed a four game sweep via a tough 1-0, hardluck loss to a fine Chelmsford squad featuring several key high school varsity players and the very capable Pat McAndrews, their fine pitcher. This game, played at the Playstead, featured two Andover baserunners being thrown out at the plate via excellent Chelmsford defense and fundamentally sound execution, aided by an Andover runner slipping on the grass while attempting to score on an outfield single.

All four games featured great Andover pitching, timely clutch hitting and a near perfect defense, committing but two errors in four games, while executing three beautiful groundball doubleplays from its superb and unmatched infield.

Andover 4 - Lawrence 1

In the 4-1 win over LA, Fred Foote went two-for-three including a base on balls and one RBI, while Bob Heidt displayed his pitching form by striking out 10 batters.

Andover trailed 1-0 for five full innings before breaking up the tight, well played game. In the sixth, Jon Pelletier walked and alertly raced to third on a groundout to the third baseman. Rick Grimm then powered a towering double off the left centerfield fence to score Pelletier with the tying run. After Bob Heidt walked, Foote delivered the go-ahead run by scoring Grimm via a screaming live-drive to left.

Andover added two insurance runs in the seventh when Heidt delivered Powers and Grimm with his sharp single.

Castledon Loser

Bill Castledon held the tough Chelmsford team to six scattered hits and deserved a better fate when two Andover runners were thrown out at home attempting to score from second on sharp outfield singles by Jeff Parker and Jon Pelletier, respectively.

The Parker to Jeff Demers to Foote infield combination completed two ground ball doubleplays via near perfect and picturebook execution.

Parker also collected two of the five Andover hits off the tough Chelmsford hurler. Pelletier, Rick Grimm and catcher Brett Pearson collected the other hits.

Newburyport Swept

The 5-0 shutout was recorded by Bill Castledon, pitching a neat two-hitter while striking out eight Newburyport batters in the process. The five Andover hits off the knuckleballer Hurley were collected off the bats of Parker, Heidt, Grimm, Jim McMillan and catcher Andy Emmert.

Heidt's hit was a long homerun to right center driving in Jeff Demers who had

Another Cardinal - Giant Showdown

By Dan Grams

The Cardinals and Giants once again appear to be well on their way to another showdown for the National crown. Both clubs have identical 10-3 records overall with two games left to play with each other in the next two weeks.

The Dodgers who were the other tri champ in the first half dropped two games this past week, putting them behind both the Cards and Giants. To top that off star catcher Mike Dimeo will be absent from the lineup for two weeks.

Pirates 5, Mets 4

The Pirate's and Mets hooked up in an exciting game with the Pirates narrowly escaping 5-4.

Dan Hegarty started, going the first 3 innings before yielding to Andy 'Whizzer' Shea. Both hurlers were superb, but some poor support gave the Pirates the victory.

Peter Sandler was the Pirate hero coming in to put out the fire for starter Steve Wilson.

Allan Sillars and Kurt Lengemann had doubles to pace the Mets.

Jim Taly drove in the game winning run with 1 of 2 hits. Baldwin also had a key hit.

Giants 4, Mets 2

Jack Sweeney pitched hit heart out but Giant hurler Dave Pratt took the task in hand, and the Mets had a tough luck 4-2 loss.

Sweeney allowed just 5 hits in his route going performance, while picking up 12 K's. His Met mates, however, were only able to push across 2 men while standing 10.

Chris Colsia (Giants) and Dan Hegarty (Mets) were the game's offensive stars with 2 hits apiece.

Braves 17, Pirates 15

The Braves broke a 15-15 tie in the top of the 6th inning with 2 runs that proved to be the winning margin 17-15.

The game was a slugfest from the 1st inning on with a total of 24 hits being recorded.

Robbie Schmidt, Jeff McNeil, and Joshua Yeserski were the Brave hurlers. Yeserski looked good in the 6th inning to pick up a save and give the decision to McNeil. Steve Mencis and Dave Sullivan had 2 hits apiece to pace the Braves while Chris Cilemiente, Brandon McGrail and Chris Hekemian also had key hits.

Tim Plaehn and Donald Connally played will defensively.

Pirates 12, Dodgers 9

The Dodgers continued to have their problems walking the ball park in a 12-9 lose. Dodger pitching issued 11 free passes to put their losing streak at two. The game marked the third outing in a row where the pitching has given up ten or more runs and failed to hold a lead.

Mark Elphante started for the Dodgers, but was really lucky to escape the first inning. Alive surrendering 6 walks a key hit to Pirate sluggers Peter Sandler and James Reagan. Mike Dimeo came on in the end and had mixed success in his pitching debut.

Elefante had 3 hits to pace the Dodgers 11 hit attack, while Mark Needham and Bart Kalkstein also had big hits.

Joey Lyons and Dave Sweeney were standouts defensively.

Cards 11, Braves 3

The Cardinals used the 1 hit pitching combo of Ted Cormier and John Gangi and some sloppy Brave defense to beat the Braves 11-3 in 7 innings.

Steve Mencia pitched 3 strong innings of 4 hit baseball shutting down the Cards until tiring in the 6th. Tim Lincecum came in the game but the cards greeted him with 8 runs, powered by Cormier, Jeff Tarro and Steve Surtre.

Lincecum had the lone Brave hit.

Braves 9, Dodger 8

The Dodgers and Braves locked horns in what appeared to be 2 different ball games. The 1st three innings was all Dodgers. Dodger ace Larry Aiello silenced all Brave bats allowing 1 hit while striking out 4 before being relieved in the 4th inning. As soon as Aiello surrendered the ball to lefty Mark Elephante, the game took a turn for the worse.

The Dodgers erupted for 7 runs to come back from a 8-1 deficit, which put the game into extra innings. The Dodgers then pushed across a run in the bottom of the 7th to upset the heavily favored Dodgers 9-8.

Tim Lincecum picked up the win for the Braves in relief of starter Robbie Schmidt. Lincecum allowed just 3 hits over the final 4 stanzas to notch his second win.

Aiello who again turned in another impressive performance with his 3 inning sting, was followed to the hill by Elephante and David Sinerson who proceeded to walk a combined total of 11 batters in 3 plus innings.

David Sullivan and Steve Napolitano had 10 hits to pace the Braves. John Twomey also had a timely hit.

The Dodgers, who outit the Braves 13-5, were led offensively by Mark Needham, Bart Kalkstein and Glen Farnham.

Donald Connolly was a defensive stand-out.

Table setters of McNeil and Chris DiClemente were on base 6 times

American Majors

Tigers 7, Indians 6

Scott Wallace and Earl Abdo combined on a six-hitter and struck out 9 as the Tigers beat the Indians. Andy Frost and Jeff Smith split the pitching chores for the Indians and gave up six hits, but walked eight. A 2-run double by Andy Pauline staked the Tigers to an early lead, but the Indians came back with 3 in the second. RBI doubles by Wallace and Abdo gave the Tigers a 7-3 lead. The Indians kept chipping away with 2 in the third and 11 in the 5th. The Indians did not go down quietly in the 6th. With a man on second, Brian Costello lashed a single to right. But the runner was cut down after it was pegged to Ray Rourke. Rourke then preceeded to gun the guy down at the plate.

Wallace finished with 3 hits while Abdo, Pauline and Rourke chipped in with 1. Matt Shine and Brian Costello led the loser with 2 hits apiece. 10-year-old Jeff Hurley had his first Little League hit for the Indians.

Tigers 8, White Sox 3

Scott Wallace and Earl Abdo hooked up to pitch a 4-hitter. The White Sox bunched their hits together to take an early 3-0 lead. The Tigers bounced back to score 4 runs in the 3rd as 2 singles and 2 doubles did the damage. The Indians threatened in the 3rd. With runners on 1st and 2nd, the ball was hit to Abdo who flipped it to Ray Rourke, who gunned it to his cousin Dave to complete the crisp double play.

Dave Rourke had 3 hits and an RBI. Ray Rourke had 2 hits and 2 Ribbies. Abdo had 2 RBI's and Wallace had a hit and an RBI.

Steve Howes was a defensive stand-out for the Tigers.

Red Sox 6, Yanks 5

The Yanks bunched 2 of their 3 hits together in a 5th inning uprise, but fell short. The runs came in on five walks, a hit batsman, and the 2 hits.

Mark Hashem was the losing pitcher. He struck out 7 walked 4 and his record fell to 5-2. Pat Bleen, Brian Gibson, and Tom Tormey had the hits. Gibson was also a stand-out behind the plate.

Gold Ruthers Continue To Sparkle

Mike Gibson

...three-run homer

Kraig Burzlaff

...suicide squeeze wins game

By Rick Harrison

Andover Gold remained undefeated and Andover Blue got itself untracked with a pair of convincing victories, as both local teams continued their solid early-season play in the Greater Lawrence Babe Ruth League.

Gold hiked its league record to 6-0 and its overall mark to 7-0 with three more victories, nudging South Lawrence West 1-0 behind the brilliant pitching of lefty Billy Vickers, outslugging Prospect Hill 14-7 and nipping stubborn North Lawrence 6-5.

Blue improved to 2-1 by slugging North Lawrence (10-4) and South Lawrence East (11-1), with righthander John Geiger dazzling SLE by tossing a four-hitter and striking out 16.

League-leader Andover Gold faced a tough week with three straight games against South Lawrence West (Monday), Blue (Tuesday) and Prospect Hill (last night). Blue also battled South Lawrence West last night.

Today both teams left for Montreal, Canada, on the organization's 11th annual trip north of the border.

While in Montreal the Andover kids will play a series of games against Canadian baseball teams, visit the "Man and His World" amusement park and enjoy several other recreational activities.

Gold, 1-0

Billy Vickers (2-0) produced the fourth straight complete-game performance for the Gold, firing a masterful two-hit shut-out against South Lawrence West at the East Junior High Playstead Field.

Vickers walked only one and struck out seven, throwing just 87 pitches. In 14 innings this season, the crafty southpaw has permitted only eight hits, walked just one and struck out 11.

Billy had to be almost perfect this time out because SLW righty Vin DelSignore tossed a four-hitter himself. DelSignore fanned five and walked two.

Kraig Burzlaff was responsible for the game-winning run in the second inning, dropping a perfect suicide squeeze bunt to score Mark Lefebvre.

Lefebvre led the stanza with a walk and he quickly stole second. Scott Zimmerman was hit in the left ribs with a pitch, and Billy Lane laid down a perfect bunt single to load the bases.

DelSignore fanned the next batter, but then Burzlaff worked the squeeze to perfection for a 1-0 Gold advantage.

Gold had three other serious threats, but failed to break through on each occasion.

Mark Grams lashed a solid single to centerfield in the bottom of the first, stole second, took third on Steve Dougal's infield out, but was erased at the plate on Vickers' infield chopper.

Bill Weidman led the bottom of the fifth with a long double to left-centerfield, Burzlaff walked, Shane Smith bunted the pair along, but pinch-runner Kevin Rourke was nailed at home on a grounder to short.

The only hits off Vickers, who retired 16 straight during one stretch, were first and seventh inning singles by Dave Howsham.

The other safety for Andover gold was a sixth inning leadoff single by Dougal, who was left stranded at third after a balk and a sacrifice bunt by Vickers.

Gold played errorless ball, with excellent defense by Burzlaff at second base, Grams at catcher, Vickers on the mound and Bill Weidman at first base.

Gold, 14-7

Scott Zimmerman and Billy Lane sparked the offense, while Mark Grams contributed an overpowering relief stint as Gold belted Prospect Hill 14-7 at Mark Devlin field.

Grams hurled the final three and two-thirds innings, holding PH to one run and striking out seven including the final three batters he faced.

Zimmerman led the offense with 3-for-4 and three RBI, while Lane chipped in a timely basehit and three RBI.

Steve Dougal scored three runs and drove home two while Grams, Billy Vickers and Mark Lefebvre scored a pair of runs each.

Gold raced to a 4-0 lead in the top of the first, doing the damage on three walks and a single by Zimmerman.

Prospect Hill came right back with three runs in the home half, but Gold made it 7-3 in the second on a two-run single by Steve Dougal and a run-scoring infield out by Lefebvre.

A two-run double off the leftfield fence by Zimmerman, which missed being a grand slam homerun by just a couple of feet, and a subsequent two-run single by Billy Lane jumped the score to 11-3 in the fourth.

Prospect Hill battled back for three runs in the bottom of the fourth, at which time Grams entered and effectively slammed the door.

Gold added its final three runs in the seventh, two on a throwing error and the third on a single by Billy Vickers.

Brian Finnerty added a triple to the winners' attack, while defensive standouts were Kevin Rourke in rightfield (diving catch), Craig Burzlaff at second base, and Billy Lane who split his time between shortstop and catcher.

Dave Rosado, Frank Quintana and Orlando Santana spanked two hits apiece for Prospect Hill.

Gold, 6-5

North Lawrence gave Gold a run for its money, but a clutch two-run double by Mark Lefebvre and some gutsy pitching by Bill Weidman enabled the league-leaders to remain perfect with the victory at Mark Devlin Field.

Weidman (2-0) tossed his second straight complete game, and the team's fifth. The 14-year-old righthander allowed six hits, walking three and whiffing 10.

Weidman, who struck out 12 in a route-going one-hitter earlier this season, has now fanned 22 batters in 14 innings.

Steve Dougal singled, stole second and eventually scored on Scott Zimmerman's sacrifice fly to give Gold a 1-0 edge in the first.

A walk to Billy Lane, a single by Bill Weidman, a walk to Craig Burzlaff, a hit batsman (Mike Grams) and a pair of North Lawrence errors enabled Gold to chalk up three more runs in the top of the second.

Weidman issued all three of his walks in the bottom of the second, loading the bases, and then Jose Morales laced a two-run single down the leftfield line. A throwing error on the same play cut the gold lead to 4-3.

Gold loaded the bases in the third on a single by Scott Zimmerman, a walk to Mark Lefebvre and a walk to Billy Lane. However, the locals were unable to push a run across.

With two down in the fourth Billy Vickers singled, Zimmerman walked, and Mark Lefebvre drilled a two-run double to right centerfield.

Weidman, who settled down and allowed just one harmless single from the third to

EXPERT GROOMING

Never Kenneled Your Dog Before????

A personal consultation will calm your fears and your dog will enjoy his stay while you enjoy your vacation.

"About 1965 I went in search of a place to board my 3 dogs. I didn't want them in a hospital — of a cage — most kennels caged their dogs and conditions were repulsive to me. I cancelled my vacation. I had a small building that I converted with "stalls and runs." Cost (those days) $800.00 — capacity 11 dogs. I put in this building what I wanted my own dogs to have. That was the beginning of TEE-EMM'S KENNEL. Capacity now 513 Dogs and Cats (separate floors). We are now putting up a new modern building (our 5th) that will be completed this spring — it will be SUPER BEAUTIFUL. We are indeed very proud of it and a dream has come true."

BOARDING FINEST FACILITIES

Going on vacation? Why not give your dog or cat a great vacation too — not a prison sentence, let them "enjoy" your absence. We feature large "roomettes" (not cages) for your dog's comfort and safety with escape-proof individual outside covered runs. Air-cooled for summer, mosquito controlled, ultra-violet lights for germ control, 24 hour resident supervision, Veterinarian on call 24 hours. Separate area for females in season.

DOG MISBEHAVING?

We will train your dog without you in 11 days. Problem dogs a specialty. Some people think they have to train their own dog. Hogwash! If you were getting a "horse" you wouldn't buy a wild one from the WEST and have your family break him in, you would have it done professionally.

"WE ARE PROFESSIONALS"

Obedience Classes for you and your dog. This is not a sideline with us. Supervised by an AKC All Breed Licensed Handler.

CAT HOUSE

Private cattery. One whole floor exclusively for cats (No dogs here to worry them). Individual "TREE FILLED" huge pens (not cages) from the floor to the ceiling, big enough for a pony, for your cat's comfort and pleasure.

SPOTLESSLY CLEAN!!!

We specialize in grooming all breeds and mixed breeds for their health, comfort and beauty. When your dog was bathed and groomed last time. Did it look real good? Was your dog happy and relaxed? Was the shop clean and comfortable? Was your dog left unsatisfied in a back room? Were the people nice to you and your dog both? Did they follow your instructions? Did they do the bathing, grooming, styling, cream rinses, trim dry nails cut, hair removed from the ears and the ears cleaned? Perhaps that's why 7000 dogs and cats were groomed at our kennel last year. Try us out some time!

7,000 DOG-LOVERS CAN'T BE WRONG.

EVERYTHING FOR A HEALTHY HAPPY PET

Pet supplies, collars, leashes, shampoo, flea ointments, crates, dog food, etc. Our prices are 1/2 less than the average pet shop. Make us prove it!

Brian Darling, the son of Chester and Daphne Darling of 9 Mayflower Drive, has been accepted for enrollment in the Ted Williams baseball camp in Lakeville, Mass., for three weeks in July.

Darling, 16, is a student at Andover High School.

Morales went 3-for-4 and Covey added two singles for North Lawrence.

Hoop Camp

A basketball camp for boys and girls between the ages 7-14 will be offered at Merrimack College July 13-17.

The "Warrior Basketball School," operated by Merrimack College's head basketball coach, Bert Hammel, and his assistant, Ro Walsh, will stress the basic skills and the fundamentals of the game.

Activities will begin daily at 9 a.m. and conclude at 3 p.m.

Tuition covers instruction, lunch, a "Warrior Basketball School" T-shirt and awards which will be given at the conclusion of the camp.

Stingers Win County Division

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 25, 1981

Under the coaching of Jim DiClemente, the Andover Stingers posted a regular season record of 8-0-2 to win their division of the Essex County Soccer Under 19 League. In post-season play, they proceeded to overpower the much larger team from Saugus, 3-2, to gain the title of Essex County Under 19 Division I Champions.

The first half ended with Andover on top 2-0. The first goal was scored by Greg Batten on a direct kick pass from Mark Reed. The Saugus goalie made a mistake by taking out Dan Roberts on a breakaway, giving Andover a penalty shot. Mark Reed shot the ball into the lower left hand corner of the net, giving the goalie no chance for a save.

In the second half, Andover raised their lead to 3-0 on an excellent goal by Greg Batten assisted by Roberts. Saugus answered on a breakaway through the Andover defense. Shortly afterwards, the ball again entered the Andover goal area, and mass confusion in front of the goal had goalie Danny Kimball a bit confused. He located the ball among the dust and bodies and dove on it, but a Saugus player got his foot on it and it went into the net. After the dust had settled, and the players untangled, Danny Kimball remained on the ground with an injured wrist. Coach DiClemente called on halfback Jere Kearns to fill in as goalie, and the choice was a good one, as he made a key save, punching away a corner kick so the Saugus defense couldn't get it.

When the final whistle blew, the Andover boys let out a yell as they became the first Andover U-19 team to get the title.

Other Andover players, who all played above their usual skills and played Saturday in the semi-final round of States against Ludlow were: forwards, Michael Sherman, Dave Robinson, Mark Edgar and Hai Dang; halfbacks, Paul Thoday, Mark Easton, Barry Bloom, Frank Rossitto, Danny Boland and Ken Saliba; fullbacks, Yvan Levesque, Norbert Ohlenbusch and John Hevehan.

CPR Course

Due to a large number of requests for summer programs, the Regional Health Center in Washington is offering summer CPR and First Aid courses.

Chiefs 2 - Merrimac 1

The final Essex County Soccer League game of the season for the Andover Chiefs on Saturday found them short of players, but long on determination, against the Merrimac team, which had previously defeated them.

Defensive playing by Mike Convey, Billy Earnshaw and Ray Reed, with Bryan Poisson in goal, prevented the opposition from scoring in the first half.

Midway through the first half, excellent ball control paid off as Chris Abell and Tom Deleire's crisp passing assisted a goal by Rich Stephan Napolitano.

In the second half, Dave McDonough, with well-placed headed balls, and Bryan Poisson, with excellent maneuvers in goal, kept the ball forward for the offense. On a well-placed throw-in by Chris Abell, Napolitano scored again.

Little League

Orioles 13, Indians 7

The Indian's Brian Costello went 4 for 4 with 3 RBI's, but that just wasn't enough as the Orioles beat the Indians. Jeff Smith had 2 hits and 2 RBI's, while Dave Curtis and Chris Nelson had 2 hits. Pat Kelly also chipped in with a double and 2 RBI's. Paul Gilmartin played a strong defensive for the Orioles in a game that featured 7 errors for both teams.

Tigers 11, Twins 5

Steve Rikeman and Mike Lane combined to limit the Tigers to 5 hits, but their defense fell apart and gave the Tigers 9 runs in the 4th inning.

Scott Wallace Earl Abdo handled the pitching for the Tigers and gave up 6 hits.

Walt Radulski led the Twins with a 2 for 2 performance while Scott McNally played a strong game defensively with 2 running catches.

Red Sox 17, White Sox 8

Gerry Nassif and Greg Devoir combined and pitched a 5 hitter, striking out 11 and walking 4 as the Red Sox defeated the White Sox. The Red Sox had a heavy hitting attack led by Nassif's 3 hits and RBI's and Matt Burke's 3 hits and 6 RBI's. Matt Gibson and Kevin Foley each contributed 2 hits.

Yanks 12, Orioles 4

Pat Breen came on in the 4th inning and pitched 2 1/3 innings of shutout ball as the Yanks beat the Orioles. Scott Powers had 2 hits and 3 RBI's to lead the offensive charge. Paul Davies, Pat Breen, Mark Hashem, and Tom Tormey each had 1 hit. Davies and Tormey also had 2 RBI's.

Brian Gibson and Davies played a strong game defensively.

Babe Ruth

walked. In the third inning, with Demers and Parker in scoring position, Grimm collected two RBI's with his lifer to left.

Castledon was never in trouble and was superb throughout the game.

In the 7-1 Andover sweep of the second game, the defense executed a neat 3-2-3 doubleplay from Foote to Pearson to Foote to get Ed Powers out of his only pitching jam of the day. Steve Rathbun and Jim McMillan each collected two of Andover's eight hits. One of McMillan's hits was a tremendous triple to center while Jim Pelletier croaked a shot way over the rightfielder's head for a double. Powers was in complete control throughout the game, giving up but four singles.

Portable Gasoline Power Sprayer

A Mighty Mac power sprayer is the homeowner's answer to all spraying requirements — pesticides, liquid fertilizers, fungicides, weed control. The many standard quality features, such as molded 22 or 50 gallon polyethylene tank (that will never corrode and provides a large top opening for no-spill filling and easy clean-out), High-pressure twin piston pump with cast iron body and stainless steel inserts, twist grip gun and others, are designed to give you years of dependable service.

The hypro pump can be adjusted to deliver 3 gpm and 300 psi with excellent agitation through recirculation. A stainless steel in-line strainer prevents nozzle pluggage and is standard along with the pressure relief and twenty five feet of hose. Optional four or six nozzle booms are available for spraying up to 120' widths. A pressure gauge and pulsation dampener are also optional.

Goalie

Andover's Tom Edmonds, a Phillips-Andover Academy graduate, was a sophomore goalie on the Ohio Wesleyan University lacrosse team this year. Edmonds appeared in two contests and made two saves while giving up no goals. The Battling Bishops, 13-3 overall, were ranked sixth in the final NCAA Division III final poll, winning their fourth title in the last six years in the Midwest Lacrosse Association.

Gymnastic School At YMCA

The Andover-North Andover YMCA summer program will feature a Youth Gymnastics School for the seventh season. Schools conducted in previous summers have proved to be very popular, according to the Y staff.

Offering gymnastics instruction in concentrated form for youth who will enter grades 2 through 9 in the fall, the program will be conducted for eight weeks beginning July 6. The school is in session Mondays through Thursdays of each week from 9 a.m. to noon. Registrations are being accepted now for one or more weeks as vacancies exist.

The program is designed for youth who wish to improve their gymnastics skills on either a recreational or competitive level. Small staff-pupil ratios, qualified staff, and a variety of activities to stimulate interest and facilitate learning provide the base for exploring the various aspects of gymnastics. National Compulsory routines and optional routine development will be offered to those youth who are ready for them. Each morning's training session concludes with a recreational swim in the YMCA pool.

A leader-in-training program for youth in grades 8-12 who are interested in gymnastics is also available. Inquiries concerning either of the above programs should be directed to Bevolyn Oliver at the Y.

Grid Camp

The Andover Football Camp at Phillips Academy is again inviting area athletes to participate in a week of learning football, building friendships and having fun.

This non-contact camp is designed for everyone. For younger players it is a great beginning, with emphasis on fundamentals and techniques. The advanced player will find it helpful to review important techniques and further develop skills to make sure that this will be their best season ever!

Jr. Campers - July 26-31, Grades 6, 7, 8;
Sr. Campers - Aug. 2-7, Grades 9-12.

All sessions held at twilight from 5:30-9 p.m. Enrollment is occurring now.

Information and applications may be obtained by calling Phillips Academy Athletic Office.

Named Most Improved

Todd Orlando

Todd Orlando of Andover has been named the Most Improved Player on the 1980-81 Bentley College varsity basketball team. Coach Brian Hammel has announced.

The Falcons, with an inexperienced team dominated by freshmen and sophomores, were 11-16 this year and finished in fifth place in the Northeast-7 Conference.

A 6'10" freshman center, Orlando improved game-by-game and earned Rookie of the Year honors in the Northeast-7 Conference at the close of the year. He was also named to Eastern Basketball Magazine's All-Freshman Team after averaging 14.6 points and 10.1 rebounds during his first collegiate season.

As evidence of Orlando's improvement over the course of the season, he averaged 19.0 points and 11.3 rebounds over the final half of the season. During that stretch, he connected on 69 percent of his fieldgoal attempts to improve his season percentage to .620, second best nationally among Division II freshmen.

Among Orlando's top performances during the season were a 34-point, 14-rebound effort against Sacred Heart; 31 points and 15 rebounds against St. Michael's; and 25 points and a career-high 18 rebounds versus Brandeis.

A 1980 graduate of Andover High School, Orlando is majoring in business administration. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Orlando of 25 Lauching Road, Andover.

All-Day Playground Program

This summer the Department of Community services is introducing an all-day playground program for children in grades K-4. Designed for the children of working parents, though open to everyone, this program will provide a full day of activities. This program will provide close supervision (1:10 ratio) and there is a fee for attending. The children will participate in a variety of arts and crafts projects and sports activities. Swimming lessons, as well as free swim, will be available each week for those children who wish to attend. Children will also go on an off-playground trip or special event each week. Children should bring a lunch and a beverage will be provided.

The playground will run Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and will be divided into two, four-week sessions. The charge will be $90.00 for a four-week session and $150.00 for the full eight weeks. Some additional costs for trips and special events are not included. The first session goes from June 29 to July 24, and the second session goes from July 27 to Aug. 21.

Stamp Exhibit

Opening June 14 through Nov. 15 at The Museum of Our National Heritage is a new exhibit, "Masons on Stamps: An International Collection," lent by K. H. Wolfgang Brachvogel of Hamburg, West Germany. This topical stamp collection commemorates the achievements of Masons in every walk of life — statesmen, patriots, scientists, military heroes, explorers, inventors, and men of arts and letters. The stamps, numbering over 700, are accompanied by individual biographies of the person whose portrait is featured on the stamps. The scope of the achievements of these prominent individuals is indicative of the international character and diversity of the Masonic membership throughout the world.

Resource Referral

A resource and referral file of Greater Lawrence Community organizations and services is just a phone call away. Questions will be individually answered by staff of Lawrence General Hospital's education or public relations department. Hours of the service are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Call the hospital main number.

The recently completed resource file contains hundreds of listings or organizations in the Greater Lawrence area, as well as those with regional offices in Boston.

Subject headings include such areas as adoption, alcoholism, children's services for the elderly and the handicapped, lead paint screening, family planning and maternal and child health care. Area residents calling with such diverse questions as, "Where can I send old eye glasses?" or,

"How can I get in touch with meals on wheels?" can be directed quickly to the appropriate resource.

Chippendale Camel Back Sofa Circa 1760 to 1785

A prominent feature of this Chippendale style sofa is the "roll over" arm seen frequently on wing chairs of the period. The sweep and rise of the back silhouette is much to be admired. The fretwork which often appeared on chairs, tea tables and consoles by this great designer is apparent here in the carved legs. The design reflects the oriental influence that strongly dominated one phase of Chippendale's creative outpour.

involved if we didn't run them down."

Gravallese asked the developer to request an extension on the approval deadline so the developer could meet with town officials, and the planners would have more time to meet with the staff.

Kalogianis balked at the delay, but after several minutes of haggling between Atty. Marden and the planners, he agreed to the one-month extension. "This is taking on the tones of a labor negotiation," Gravallese quipped at one point in the discussion.

Still another issue is hanging over the subdivision: the question of whether a cart path that cuts through the property is a public right of way. Marden maintains it is not, while Ballardvale residents argue that it is.

Gravallese instructed the two parties to settle the issue, which was made a condition of the preliminary approval, two weeks ago, but on Tuesday night it was still unresolved.

Atty. Howard Perkins of Center Street, representing the Ballardvale residents, said he would file a written memorandum on the question and supporting documents with town counsel this week, and send copies to Marden.

The chairman cautioned that he was not sure the planning board should "put itself in the middle of what could be a private dispute between private parties", indicating that he would discuss that question with town counsel.

While he is proceeding with plans for the Pole Hill development, Kalogianis has not ruled out the possibility of swapping that land for the town-owned "tea lots" off Woburn Street. Dina Hammond of the Conservation Commission said Wednesday. Town meeting approved the proposed swap under Article 53 earlier this month.

Hammond explained that the developer has made it clear he intends to continue obtaining all the necessary permits and approvals for the Pole Hill subdivision. But he is interested in the potential swap, she added, and he's ready to start discussions very shortly."

The Conservation Commission has sent maps of the tea lots to Kalogianis' engineers so they can see how it might be developed and "figure out what it's worth to him," Hammond said. "That is step one, and we will hear from him when he's ready."

Town meeting approved the swap in hopes of saving Pole Hill, which is one of the highest spots in town and overlooks the Shawshen River. In addition to the tea lots, Kalogianis could ask for financial compensation, which was approved by voters as well.

An estimated 30 to 35 houses could be built on the 26-acre tea lot site, while 69 homes would be built on the 45-acre Pole Hill parcel.

Directors Elected At Arlington

At the annual meeting of the board of directors of Arlington Trust Co. Marie Walsh Loughlin and Robert H. Goldstein were elected directors.

Loughlin, an attorney in Lawrence and a member of the Federal, Massachusetts and Lawrence Bar Associations is a native of Lawrence. She attended Lawrence Public Schools and received a bachelor of arts from Boston University and a law degree from Boston University School of Law.

She has been active with community fund raising activities and was a member of the Lawrence School Committee for 10 years. She is presently a member of the executive committee of the Boston University Osgood Hill Association, assistant treasurer and trustee of Bon Secours Hospital and a former director and treasurer of the Lawrence Credit Union.

A resident of North Andover, Loughlin has two children, Marie Balderama of Mexico City, and William J. Loughlin of Houston, Tex.

Goldstein is treasurer of Pacific Paper Products, Inc. of Lawrence.

A native of Lawrence, he is a graduate of Lawrence Academy, and he attended Bates College in Maine.

Active in community affairs, Goldstein is presently vice-president and treasurer of Merrimac Valley United Way, a member of the board of governors of Temple Emanuel of Andover, a trustee for Bon Secours Hospital and a director of Artru Bancorporation. He and his family are residents of Andover.

Summer Is Burglary Prevention Time

Home burglaries in cities and other areas throughout the country rose some 15 percent in 1980. This is increasing the national average of a burglary to more than one every 15 seconds according to law enforcement agencies.

And the same situation is true in Andover. Chief James F. Johnson has issued a proclamation asking all citizens to assist the Andover Police Department in fighting home burglaries, especially as the warm weather and vacation season starts.

The increase in working wives has made empty homes and apartments on work-days easy targets for burglars, even mild weather has an impact. There is an increasing number of garage burglaries and citizens are reminded to keep garage doors closed and locked as much as possible.

A walk around your neighborhood any day will tell you at a glance who's away: Porches will be cluttered with circulars and newspapers, an empty garage with the door open or a bulging mailbox. All of these are tip-offs that broadcast "NO ONE'S HOME" to anyone canvassing the neighborhood.

In the evening, most empty homes can be spotted too—just look for the dark houses. It's a fact, light is one of the best deterrent to crime, yet most homeowners go out for an evening and leave their homes completely dark. A simple, but effective means of having light in your home every evening, is by connecting an automatic timing device to one or two lamps. Lights turning on and off during the evening hours will give the appearance someone is home and may prevent a possible burglary attempt.

Crime Prevention Officer Joe Guellette lists some precautions for homeowners:

1. Close and lock all doors, including porch, basement and garage. Use deadbolt locks on outside entrance and safety locks on the windows.
2. Connect a lamp to an automatic timer to turn lights on and off each evening.
3. Protect all doors and windows with an inexpensive, portable burglary alarm which sounds whenever someone attempts to break in.
4. Light up your porch and yard with outdoor lights to increase the likelihood that an attempted burglary would be seen.
5. Be sure all screens are fastened from the inside.
6. Never leave valuables lying around, keep them in a safety deposit box.
7. Notify the Police Department when you'll be leaving and how long you expect to be away. It only takes a few minutes to fill out the form at the station.
8. Have a neighbor, or your post office, hold all mail until you return.
9. Arrange with a neighbor to mow the lawn. Also ask them if they will pick up any circulars or handbills that may be left at your door.
10. Leave your shades and blinds as you normally do.
11. Never advertise your departure with an item in the local newspaper.

Remember, there is no such thing as a "burglar proof" home, but following the suggestions listed here will help.

You may be able to unstuck stuck-together postage stamps if you freeze them first.

Phyllis N. Spieler

Begins Practice

Phyllis N. Spieler, M.D., has recently opened up a practice limited to Rheumatology at Doctors Park, 140 Haverhill St., Andover.

She is a graduate of New York University School of Medicine and did her Rheumatology training at Yale University where she was an Instructor of Medicine.

Dr. Spieler is board certified in both Rheumatology and Internal Medicine. She resided in Andover with her husband, a Hematologist-Oncologist, and her four children.

Drip irrigation releases about two gallons of water an hour at the base of a plant. The water penetrates deeply and quickly, does not supply nearby weeds, and does not evaporate, according to Massachusetts Audubon.

To Join Network In June

Susan F. Loucks

Susan F. Loucks of the University of Texas Research and Development Center for Teacher Education will be joining the staff of The NETWORK, Inc., Andover, in June.

Loucks will be director of The NETWORK's Basic Skills Validation and Marketing subcontract with LINC Resources, Inc., Columbus, Ohio, a project funded through the U.S. Department of Education Basic Skills Improvement Program.

Loucks has established a national reputation in educational research for her work with Dr. Gene Hall in the study of the change process in schools.

She has been associated with the University of Texas Center since 1972 and is presently subcontract manager for the U.S. Department of Education's National Diffusion Network Technical Assistance Base and assistant project director for the research on Concerns-Based Adoption Project sponsored by the National Institute for Education.

During the past eight years she has consulted nation-wide with school districts, intermediate education agencies, state departments of education, educational laboratories, and federal programs in the areas of program implementation, evaluation, staff development, competency-based education and curriculum design and organization.

Loucks has been associated with The NETWORK in a variety of ways over the past few years, most recently as subcontract manager for the Study of Dissemination Efforts Supporting School Improvement, a major Department of Education research project.

She is president of the American Educational Research Association's Special Interest Group on Research Utilization; board member of the National Staff Development Council; chairman of the National Dissemination and Utilization Researcher Group; and ex officio member of the Southwest Educational Laboratory/Regional Exchange Advisory Board.

She earned her Ph.D. and M.A. degrees at the University of Texas at Austin in 1975 and 1973, respectively, and is a 1968 graduate of the State University of New York at Binghamton.

A NEW TURBO POWER VOLVO.

Over the years, Volvo has come to be known as one of the most sensible cars you can own.

But now we have a Volvo even for those to whom practicality takes second place.

The new Volvo GLT.

The GLT is available with a fuel-injected, overhead-cam, turbo-charged engine that can propel the car from 0-60 in 9.6 seconds.

And its handling offers a feature even harder to find: predictability.

It not only presents you with no surprises, it can actually improve your performance.

So before you purchase a performance car, stop in to test-drive the new Volvo GLT.

The pure exhilaration you'll feel may have little to do with logic. But if your heart insists on a GLT, relax.

Your mind will be getting a Volvo.

VOLVO

A car you can believe in.

TOWN OF ANDOVER

DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AND PLANNING

In accordance with Chapter III, section 31, The Massachusetts General Laws, the Andover Board of Health, at its regularly scheduled meeting of June 15, 1981, adopted the following change, effective immediately, to the Minimum Requirements for the Sub-surface Disposal of Sanitary Sewage:

Regulation 2, Section 2.1g

"A Disposal Works Installation Permit is issued to a lot owner, builder, or contractor, after approval of a Certified foundation Plan by the Health Division staff.

Such contractor, lot owner, or builder shall insure that prior to any work commencing on the disposal system, a licensed disposal works installer shall secure an approved disposal works construction and design plan which has been stamped and validated by the Andover Board of Health from the Health Division office.

A non-refundable fee for such Disposal Works Installation Permit shall be paid to the Town of Andover, pursuant to the current fee schedule and all work on such system shall be done only in accordance with such validated stamped plan."

In accordance with the above M.G.L. the following addition to Town of Andover, Health Division Fee Schedule, was approved, effective immediately.

Andover Meat Shoppe — Finest Meats Retail and Wholesale

The finest USDA Choice and Prime meat sold anywhere are available right in the center of Andover — at Andover Meat Shoppe, 32 Park St., rear, next to Andover Lanes Bowling. Stop in soon and discover what you've been missing in quality meats and in good old fashioned service by butchers who care.

Andover Meat Shoppe has been open just over a year. It is owned by Vinnie Doherty and Damien Turbini. They both have had many years of experience working in the Quincy Market section of Boston supplying the finest hotels and restaurants with the finest of quality meats, that they now offer to the public at their Andover store.

Everything is hand picked. They carry only USDA Choice and Prime beef, as well as poultry and can get from Boston, on order, fresh calves liver, sweetbreads, and other specialty items. They offer customers the exclusive China Bowl line of Chinese products including spices and wines.

Boneing is done free, roasts tied to order, and all done right in front of you at their open cutting board. You save because they buy in bulk, and cut to customers specifications. Also there are pre-cut meats in the case for your convenience. They make their own sausage and corn their own brisket. Shortly they will be adding a new feature: a new kitchen will be installed to prep entrees, and cook dishes such as lasagna, and chicken and veal entrees.

An added plus — Damien cooks professionally and will share his recipes with you, and help you with proper cuts and preparation.

Prices are competitive, quality is of the finest, and service is the by-word at Andover Meat Shoppe. Stop in and get acquainted with Vinnie and Damien. Discover the joy of eating USDA Choice and Prime meats again! Andover Meat Shoppe, 32 Park St., is open Tuesday thru Saturday 9-6, and Friday 9-7. Tel. 470-1120.

A FUTURE FOR SMALLER HOMES

When younger families search for a home, they may question the wisdom of buying a smaller home. The question mark is usually in the form of future resale value. "Will there be a good market for a small home in the future?" Advice: Buy the home that fits your needs and pocketbook.

You don't have to worry about selling a small home in the future. The demand for smaller homes is increasing every year. Single person households (called primary individuals by the Dept. of Commerce) now number 20% of the home-buying market. At the same time there has been a sharp increase in divorces. And divorce takes one household and makes it into two households — each with needs simpler from the standpoint of numbers and dollars — than when they were single households. A further decline in the birthrate is also forecast and small families require smaller homes. Add to this the fact that people live longer today and they tend to remain in their own households rather than live with relatives. The future for smaller homes is getting brighter every day.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Sidewalk Bazaar On Weekend

The Andover Sidewalk Bazaar committee is going the route of all popular events these days and bringing to town a soap opera star.

Alan Dysert, the six-foot two bad boy of "All My Children," better known as Sean Cudahy, will be on Main street Saturday between 2 and 4 p.m. He will be meeting and talking with the public along the street during the two-hour period.

The star's appearance is but one of the many events planned by the committee of the Andover Center Merchants for the annual bazaar days.

Merchants will be offering numerous bargains during the two-day event which should the town's watershed areas, Fish Brook and Haggett's Pond, be sprayed. Those areas make up about 500 of the town's 20,000 acres.

Selectman Susan Poore pointed out that some residents may not want their property sprayed, for health or "philosophical" reasons. But, McQuade said, "Town meeting should vote to spray the entire town, except the watershed, or not spray."

He explained that cutting down the area to be sprayed would nearly eliminate both the effectiveness and the cost-effectiveness of spraying.

Selectman Jerry Silverman said voters may not want the town to spray because it could add an estimated $1 to the tax rate of $66 per $1,000; some people may believe they could pay to have their property sprayed for less than it would cost them in taxes.

Silverman added that he would not want the $300,000 to be cut from some other area of the town budget, as required by Proposition 2½. He recommended that the neighbors petition the state to declare a "state of emergency" in Andover so the town could spray without cutting the budget elsewhere.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said voters should consider that if the caterpillars continue to defoliate the trees, the danger of forest fires in our drought-stricken region will be increased.

And Selectman Edward Harris added his agreement with the Tilton Lane residents: "Something it seems to me must be done," he said, "or we're going to be forced out by these little animals."

will be accompanied by a carnival in the downtown area.

Traffic will be blocked off in the downtown area during the time the bazaar is in progress.

Stores will be open Friday night until 9 p.m. and on Saturday until 5:30 p.m.

H. Sandy Brown is chairman of the event this year.

tember, Simon added.

When plans for the theatre were presented to the selectmen last December, more than 20 Shawsheen residents appeared before the board to argue against it. Neighbors claimed the new stores and the cinema in particular would create parking and traffic headaches at the plaza.

And one neighbor argued that the plaza would soon become "an entertainment center" rather than a neighborhood shopping center, with the addition of the theatre near the Andover Jade restaurant.

But plaza owner Gordon Bloom said plans to redesign the parking lot and the use of a police officer to direct traffic during peak hours would take care of any problems.

At the time, Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark called the proposed cinema "a new step for Andover" that could be "very beneficial."

going to put up with that kind of foolishness." Tomlinson said he was angry that the manager "hasn't done anything" about hiring a replacement for Nicoll.

Tomlinson said he planned to discuss the problem with Clark, while Chairman David Gravalles said he would take it up with Selectmen Chairman Norma Gammon.

Dining Out Enjoyed By Millions

The art of dining out is enjoyed by millions each year.

This is the report of a survey made by the National Restaurant Association which states that one out of every three food dollars is spent for meals outside the home.

The NRA also reports that one out of every three persons in the United States enjoys dining out, be it for a snack, lunch or dinner.

Better than 50 percent of the families included in the survey said they had eaten out in the prior week. By 1980, the projections from the survey indicate, one out of every two dollars spent for food will be spent for meals away from home.

Why do people leave the home to dine? There are no doubt as many answers as there are people but one major reason is that it is an enjoyable activity in which the entire family can participate. But, and this is the big factor, no member of the family has to wash the dishes or clean up the dining room.

People are naturally drawn to good food, excellently prepared and served with style. And it is to such restaurants that the American family turns to for a change, whether it is once a week, once a month or just to celebrate a birthday, a promotion or an anniversary.

Such restaurants are becoming more popular each year according to the most recent NRA survey. Currently they rate third in popularity and all indications are that they will gain in the years to come.

Choosing restaurants is a personal thing and there are many and varied reasons, but the most important factor is quality.

The cost of a meal also enters into the habit of eating out. According to the NRA survey, the average amount spent on breakfast at restaurants is $1.81 per person; $2.31 for an average lunch; $3.75 for an average dinner and 88 cents for between meal snacks.

The 45 to 54 age group eat out more frequently and they spend the most money — an average of $17.41 a week. The lowest expenditure was among the under 25 age group, averaging $12.62 a week. Families in the 55 and over age group spent $14.68 weekly.

These are averages for the nation; some areas perhaps have higher percentages. And this section of the country, with an international reputation for good food, no doubt has a higher percentage than many areas. Right now, dining out has grown to the extent that restaurants purchase about 20 percent of the country's food products. In addition, the food service industry employs 4.7 percent of the nation's work force, the largest number of any retail sector, according to the National Restaurant Association.

In fact, an NRA official said recently that "the food service industry is one of the bright spots in the nation's economic picture. Dining out is a significant part of the life-style of this great country, and the restaurant industry makes a major contribution to our nation's economy."

Acres Vanish

A National Agricultural Lands Study states that when critical mass (the number of viable commercial farms needed to support agricultural supply and transport businesses) in a farming community is lost the best acres vanish; farms become isolated. Profitable farming on the remaining "checkerboard" area is almost impossible.
